Battleships Fight Sharks.
Mr. Debs, Men Will Fight.
Oh! Good and Gloomy Dean
The Worms Sing. Horrors!

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Spain finds good use for warships. They are sent to patrol the coasts and shoot sharks that despoil the great schools of sardines.

These Spanish sharks that destroy sardines, as a small kind of whale off the coast of Alaska, destroys the salmon, will meet "somebody their own size" when the Spanish battleships get after them.

That's the right kind of fighting for a battleship. A small part of the money now spent on war and murder would make this earth a different planet. It would end plagues, drain every swamp, irrigate all deserts. But is the human race as yet fit for such good fortune? Wouldn't it make them lazy, as the mild climate and easy food in the Pacific islands made the natives lazy?

Twenty-five thousand wanted to hear Eugene V. Debs speak in New York city on Sunday. Mr. Debs, sincere, courageous and utterly mistaken, as far off the track in this age as an old fashioned, wood burning locomotive in the middle of a cornfield, told 15,000 that he wished "the workers of this country were patriotic enough to refuse to fight in any war."

Mr. Debs wishes vainly. Our workers won't refuse to fight in any war, if it interests them, because they descend from men that have fought and have therefore survived.

Certain tribes have refused to fight. They include the timid Indians of California, satisfied to catch grasshoppers and other insects, lacking the courage to fight bigger animals and other Indians.

Asiatics living under British rule in India are "patriotic enough not to fight," and so 300,000,000 of them are ruled by a handul of Englishmen thousands of miles away.

Mr. Debs, the most independent and successful class of workers in the United States, are your associates, the locomotive engineers.

It isn't so long since they were doing the most desperate fighting ever seen in any strike. Don't advise men not to fight, unless you want them to be the slaves of somebody else. Advise them to attack only when they are right, and to defend themselves always.

The good and gloomy Dean Inge, of St. Paul's in London, wants America to "save the world." He has what seems to him an unanswerable argument. Pointing to America's prosperity, he says we have an awful lot of money, excellent credit, and it is our duty to save the world.

To that we reply, rspectfully, that if we have a lot of money and credit, it is because we have hitherto taken the advice of George Washington and attended to our own business, keeping out of war, when the world would let us, refraining from coveting our neighbors' goods and taking care of our own.

To ask one country to save the whole world is asking a good deal. It's a big world.

It is like asking Dean Inge to jump off a high cliff and save the drowning fat lady from the circus. The dean would say, "She's too heavy, and

MRS. SHEPHERD TO SURRENDER

Chicago Woman Held as Accessory in McClintock Case.

CHICAGO, May 6.—Mrs. Julie Shepherd, who went into hiding after a coroner's jury ordered she be held as an accessory to the alleged murders of Mrs. Emma McClintock and William Nelson McClintock, will be surrendered before nightfall to a judge of the criminal court and her release on bail will be demanded immediately.

This announcement was made today by Attorney William Scott Stewart, her counsel.

Indications were that Mrs. Shepherd would be surrendered to Judge Thomas J. Lynch who is to try her husband May 18 on the charge of having murdered Billy McClintock by the administration of typhoid germs.

The state, it is believed, will make no serious effort to prevent her release on bond.

In fact, the state's attorney's office, evidenced almost complete indiffer-

MOTHER CLAIMS SON THOUGHT DEAD 20 YEARS

Hunt for Alleged Vermont Kidnaper Reveals Tragedy.

MARRIED AGAIN

Kept Secret Birth of Earl Woodward, Ex-convict.

BROCKTON, Mass., May 6.—"I can not cast off the baby whom I believed dead."

Mrs. Jennie Woodward Sturtevant made the decision today soon after she learned that the man-hunt for Earl Woodward in the Vermont mountains had revealed that Earl is the son she thought dead 20 years.

Mrs. Sturtevant kept the tragedy of her girlhood from her present husband all these years.

Convinced that her son by her first marriage was dead, the mother said she never once dreamed the child had grown to manhood and had been behind prison bars.

Now that she has learned that he is alive she can not cast him off even though she has a husband and five children.

Mrs. Sturtevant's Story.

"He is my son," she said, "no matter what he has done or what is charged against him. It seems unfair that he should have had so much trouble in his life, poor boy."

The story of Mrs. Sturtevant begins in Manchester, N. H., when she married Pierre Limoges. They had a son, Earl, and when they separated the mother took the boy to the home of a friend at Granville, Vt.

A few years later, on the eve of her marriage in Manchester, N. H., to Simon Sturtevant, the mother learned from her father that her boy was dead.

The secret of her first marriage and the birth of her son she locked in her breast. And she had carried it there these past 20 years. Newspaper stories last week of the man-hunt in Vermont for the 27-years-old hill man who kidnaped 11-year-old Lucille Chatterton, revealed to Mrs. Sturtevant that her son still lives.

Baseball Season Opens in Newell Saturday Afternoon

Elaborate plans have been made for the opening game of the baseball season in Newell, Saturday afternoon, when the Laughlin Chinas will meet the Trotter-Chevrolet team in a City Industrial league battle. This game was to have been played Monday evening, but was postponed on account of rain.

Goodwin, Pasadena, Cal., general superintendent who will preside at the assembly. Dr. Goodwin preached on the theme "That They All May Be One." W. W. McCaskey, song evangelist of Akron delivered a solo, "Jesus Has Promised My Shepherd to Be—That's Why I Love Him So." The closing prayer was offered by Dr. E. P. POLICE FREE LIQUOR RAIDER

Caleb S. Harris, 35, Exonerated of Hold-up Count.

Caleb S. Harris, 35, former head of the Harris-Webster Detective agency, of Steubenville, who participated in liquor raids conducted in Wellsville and East Liverpool early in January, and who was arrested in Steubenville Saturday afternoon for his alleged participation in a hold-up at Columbus, has been released from custody.

Harris was charged with complicity in the robbery of the Moorehouse-Martens payroll at Columbus a few days ago by another man. After the former detective had been taken back to Columbus, the complinant made a second confession in which Harris was exonorated.

The Steubenville detective agency was closed about two months ago following the mysterious disappearance of Harry Webster, the other member of the firm, following his indictment by the Jefferson county gran jury. Harris later moved his office furniture to Columbus. He was arrested in Steubenville while visiting friends.

COLUMBUS, May 6.—The East Ohio Power company, Youngstown, today filed application with the State Utilities commission for permission to acquire the Orwell electric plant from Hugh A. Higgins of Warren, Pa., for $24,166 and to assume an $8,000 mortgage on the plant.

EIGHT PERSONS KILLED AS INCENDIARIES FIRE SWISSVALE BUILDINGS

Workmen Search Ruins of Four Structures for Additional Bodies as County Fire Marshal Expresses Opinion That Bomb Blast May Have Caused Blaze in Pittsburgh Suburb.

HUNDREDS OF WINDOWS ARE BROKEN BY EXPLOSION; DAMAGE IS $225,000

Witnesses Report Blaze Broke Out Simultaneously in Several Places, Indicating That Gasoline Was Used to Hasten it, Investigators Say—Blackhand Plot is Suspected.

SWISSVALE, Pa., May 6.—Eight bodies had been recovered this afternoon from the ruins of the four buildings destroyed by fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, today.

Workmen are continuing their search of the ruins for bodies, although so far as known no other persons are missing.

County Fire Marshal Thomas L. Pfarr, Coroner W. J. McGregor and chief of county detectives have joined forces in a searching investigation of the blaze, the second of its nature here within two months.

Pfarr, after a preliminary investigation, declared a bomb might have fired the buildings.

Witnesses' reports of the blaze breaking out simultaneously in several places indicated that the buildings might have been saturated with gasoline before the explosion, Pfarr said.

Fireman is Rescued.

Damage from the fire was estimated at more than $225,000, windows in 200 buildings were broken by the explosion, and several small buildings were jarred from foundations, Pfarr said. The bodies of Clemons Jeremias, 60; Richard Baldis, 7; and Anna Baldis, 37; Carl Baldis, 36; Mrs. Helen Keigler, 36; her husband, Charles Baldis, 40; Helen Jeremias, 42, and her sister, Mrs. Marie Koda, 28, have been recovered.

Victim's Bodies Charred.

All of the victims' bodies were charred and identification was established with difficulty.

The bodies of Charles Kiegler and his wife were found clasped in each other's arms beneath the heavy timbers which crushed out their lives. They apparently were trapped and determined to die together, after abandoning all hope for escape, and had knelt in prayer, clasping their arms about each other.

Fireman Jack Trax, 30, was seriously injured when he fell through the roof of a flaming building. He was rescued from death by other firemen after being severely burned.

Investigate Blackhand Theory.

The blast occurred in the fruit store of Thomas Pusatere, completely demolishing it and wrecking adjoining buildings. Other buildings in the block were badly damaged either by the blast or the fire which followed. The entire fire force of Swissvale were called out before the flames were finally brought under control.

Police are investigating the theory that the explosion was the work of the Blackhand society.

Iowa Dry Forces Say Farmers are Roadhouse Owners

DES MOINES, Ia., May 6.—Charging that Iowa farmers were turning their homes into roadhouses, and intoxicating liquors was being openly sold over the bars of saloons in Iowa cities, the Iowa Anti-Saloon league made public here today the results of its state-wide survey into the prohibition situation.

"Rampant lawlessness, increasing by leaps and bounds, is forcing Iowa to face the problem of either demanding strict enforcement of the present prohibition laws or else of modification of these laws to permit the sale of light wines and beer," the report issued by Superintendent S. P. McNaught said.

Pittsburgh Man Fined $1,000 Here; Committed to Jail

Max Cramsfield, of Pittsburgh, is held in the city jail today in default of a $1,000 fine, assessed against him by Mayor Charles Brown, upon a charge of unlawfully transporting intoxicating liquors. He will likely be committed to the county jail tonight if his fine is not paid.

Cramsfield was arrested by Chief of Police McDermott and Captain Conley at a St. Clair avenue rooming house last night. Two witnesses testified that he had been transporting bootleg liquor from Pittsburgh to this city and selling it as bonded brandy. The police say that the liquor was nothing more than distilled denatured alcohol.

67-ACRE TRACT ALONG LINCOLN WAY SOLD FOR HOME BUILDING

Donora, Pa., Company Purchases S. E. Fisher's Holdings.

NEW ALLOTMENT

Landscape Architects Engaged to Beautify "Fisher Park"

A 67-acre tract of land, located on the Lincoln highway, just outside the corporate limits, has been purchased by R. E. Hoopes and W. H. Watson of Donora, Pa., from Sanford E. Fisher, as a new home site allotment, it was announced today.

Landscape architects, engineers, public service linemen and other workmen are now engaged in improving the allotment, which will be known as "Fisher Park."

Pitkin & Mott, landscape architects of Cleveland, have been engaged to park, plant and lay out the tract. The engineers are under contract to have at least a part of the plot staked and ready for sale by June 1.

Sixteen feet of highway frontage will be cut into lots, 50 by 150 feet. The balance of the acreage will be divided into large lots, with attractive and interesting street plans to offer every advantage in the way of beauty, convenience and facility, it was declared. The streets will be hard-surfaced.

Install Service Lines.

Service lines, including water, gas and electric power, will be installed and arrangements have been made to provide every home builder with connections promptly. Four-fifths of the land is level. The level surface will obviate the need of expensive retaining walls, the owners point out.

According to Messrs. Hoopes and Watson, the investor in "Fisher Park" property will be protected by a reasonable building-line and building cost restriction. Frontage homes will be limited to a minimum of at least $4,500. The sales plan will include the usual deferred payment terms.

The tract has been in the Fisher family for the last 95 years. Recently Fisher has been selling small parcels to home builders and in the deal which transferred the 67-acres on the north side of the Lincoln highway, he retained a small plot on the south, which includes his home, where he will continue to reside. After clearing up some of his business affairs, he expects to take a European tour later in the year.

CROWDS GREET FIRST CIRCUS

Gentry-Patterson Shows Exhibit in West End.

Today is circus day in East Liverpool.

Arriving here shortly after 6 o'clock this morning from Uhrichsville, the Gentry Brothers-James Patterson circus pitched their tents at Patterson field for afternoon and evening exhibitions.

A street parade was given shortly before 12 o'clock. Brightly painted wagons, attractively decorated horses and ponies, pretty women, clowns, cowboys and cowgirls, calliopes, bands, elephants and camels took part in the pageant which passed over the principal down town thoroughfares.

Upon orders of Superintendent of Schools F. P. Geiger, schools were dismissed at 11 o'clock to permit the children to see the parade. Thousands of spectators, the majority of them youngsters, watched the colorful procession.

The afternoon performance started at 2 o'clock, the doors being opened an hour earlier to permit patrons to visit the zoo. The evening performance is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. Despite the steady downpour of rain during the last few days, the circus grounds were in good condition.

Dog and pony acts were featured by the circus. The entire program was carried out in two rings and a stage. Hippodrome races were also presented. A dozen or more clowns went through many funny antics that especially pleased the children.

The circus is charging a pre-war admission price of 50 cents. A corresponding reduction in price has been made for reserved seats.

The show will exhibit in Ambridge, Pa., tomorrow.

Mrs. Sturtevant kept the tragedy of her girlhood from her present husband all these years.

Convinced that her son by her first marriage was dead, the mother said she never once dreamed the child had grown to manhood and had been behind prison bars.

Now that she has learned that he is alive she can not cast him off even though she has a husband and five children.

Mrs. Sturtevant's Story.

"He is my son," she said, "no matter what he has done or what is charged against him. It seems unfair that he should have had so much trouble in his life, poor boy."

The story of Mrs. Sturtevant begins in Manchester, N. H., when she married Pierre Limoges. They had a son, Earl, and when they separated the mother took the boy to the home of a friend at Granville, Vt.

A few years later, on the eve of her marriage in Manchester, N. H., to Simon Sturtevant, the mother learned from her father that her boy was dead.

The secret of her first marriage and the birth of her son she locked in her breast. And she had carried it there these past 20 years. Newspaper stories last week of the man-hunt in Vermont for the 27-years-old hill man who kidnaped 11-year-old Lucille Chatterton, revealed to Mrs. Sturtevant that her son still lives.

POLICE FREE LIQUOR RAIDER

Caleb S. Harris, 35, Exonerated of Hold-up Count.

Caleb S. Harris, 35, former head of the Harris-Webster Detective agency, of Steubenville, who participated in liquor raids conducted in Wellsville and East Liverpool early in January, and who was arrested in Steubenville Saturday afternoon for his alleged participation in a hold-up at Columbus, has been released from custody.

Harris was charged with complicity in the robbery of the Moorehouse-Martens payroll at Columbus a few days ago by another man. After the former detective had been taken back to Columbus, the complinant made a second confession in which Harris was exonorated.

The Steubenville detective agency was closed about two months ago following the mysterious disappearance of Harry Webster, the other member of the firm, following his indictment by the Jefferson county gran jury. Harris later moved his office furniture to Columbus. He was arrested in Steubenville while visiting friends.

EIGHT PERSONS KILLED AS INCENDIARIES FIRE SWISSVALE BUILDINGS

Workmen Search Ruins of Four Structures for Additional Bodies as County Fire Marshal Expresses Opinion That Bomb Blast May Have Caused Blaze in Pittsburgh Suburb.

HUNDREDS OF WINDOWS ARE BROKEN BY EXPLOSION; DAMAGE IS $225,000

Witnesses Report Blaze Broke Out Simultaneously in Several Places, Indicating That Gasoline Was Used to Hasten it, Investigators Say—Blackhand Plot is Suspected.

SWISSVALE, Pa., May 6.—Eight bodies had been recovered this afternoon from the ruins of the four buildings destroyed by fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, today.

Workmen are continuing their search of the ruins for bodies, although so far as known no other persons are missing.

County Fire Marshal Thomas L. Pfarr, Coroner W. J. McGregor and chief of county detectives have joined forces in a searching investigation of the blaze, the second of its nature here within two months.

Pfarr, after a preliminary investigation, declared a bomb might have fired the buildings.

Witnesses' reports of the blaze breaking out simultaneously in several places indicated that the buildings might have been saturated with gasoline before the explosion, Pfarr said.

Fireman is Rescued.

Damage from the fire was estimated at more than $225,000, windows in 200 buildings were broken by the explosion, and several small buildings were jarred from foundations, Pfarr said. The bodies of Clemons Jeremias, 60; Richard Baldis, 7; and Anna Baldis, 37; Carl Baldis, 36; Mrs. Helen Keigler, 36; her husband, Charles Baldis, 40; Helen Jeremias, 42, and her sister, Mrs. Marie Koda, 28, have been recovered.

Victim's Bodies Charred.

All of the victims' bodies were charred and identification was established with difficulty.

The bodies of Charles Kiegler and his wife were found clasped in each other's arms beneath the heavy timbers which crushed out their lives. They apparently were trapped and determined to die together, after abandoning all hope for escape, and had knelt in prayer, clasping their arms about each other.

Fireman Jack Trax, 30, was seriously injured when he fell through the roof of a flaming building. He was rescued from death by other firemen after being severely burned.

Investigate Blackhand Theory.

The blast occurred in the fruit store of Thomas Pusatere, completely demolishing it and wrecking adjoining buildings. Other buildings in the block were badly damaged either by the blast or the fire which followed. The entire fire force of Swissvale were called out before the flames were finally brought under control.

Police are investigating the theory that the explosion was the work of the Blackhand society.

Iowa Dry Forces Say Farmers are Roadhouse Owners

DES MOINES, Ia., May 6.—Charging that Iowa farmers were turning their homes into roadhouses, and intoxicating liquors was being openly sold over the bars of saloons in Iowa cities, the Iowa Anti-Saloon league made public here today the results of its state-wide survey into the prohibition situation.

"Rampant lawlessness, increasing by leaps and bounds, is forcing Iowa to face the problem of either demanding strict enforcement of the present prohibition laws or else of modification of these laws to permit the sale of light wines and beer," the report issued by Superintendent S. P. McNaught said.

Pittsburgh Man Fined $1,000 Here; Committed to Jail

Max Cramsfield, of Pittsburgh, is held in the city jail today in default of a $1,000 fine, assessed against him by Mayor Charles Brown, upon a charge of unlawfully transporting intoxicating liquors. He will likely be committed to the county jail tonight if his fine is not paid.

Cramsfield was arrested by Chief of Police McDermott and Captain Conley at a St. Clair avenue rooming house last night. Two witnesses testified that he had been transporting bootleg liquor from Pittsburgh to this city and selling it as bonded brandy. The police say that the liquor was nothing more than distilled denatured alcohol.

67-ACRE TRACT ALONG LINCOLN WAY SOLD FOR HOME BUILDING

Donora, Pa., Company Purchases S. E. Fisher's Holdings.

NEW ALLOTMENT

Landscape Architects Engaged to Beautify "Fisher Park"

A 67-acre tract of land, located on the Lincoln highway, just outside the corporate limits, has been purchased by R. E. Hoopes and W. H. Watson of Donora, Pa., from Sanford E. Fisher, as a new home site allotment, it was announced today.

Landscape architects, engineers, public service linemen and other workmen are now engaged in improving the allotment, which will be known as "Fisher Park."

Pitkin & Mott, landscape architects of Cleveland, have been engaged to park, plant and lay out the tract. The engineers are under contract to have at least a part of the plot staked and ready for sale by June 1.

Sixteen feet of highway frontage will be cut into lots, 50 by 150 feet. The balance of the acreage will be divided into large lots, with attractive and interesting street plans to offer every advantage in the way of beauty, convenience and facility, it was declared. The streets will be hard-surfaced.

Install Service Lines.

Service lines, including water, gas and electric power, will be installed and arrangements have been made to provide every home builder with connections promptly. Four-fifths of the land is level. The level surface will obviate the need of expensive retaining walls, the owners point out.

According to Messrs. Hoopes and Watson, the investor in "Fisher Park" property will be protected by a reasonable building-line and building cost restriction. Frontage homes will be limited to a minimum of at least $4,500. The sales plan will include the usual deferred payment terms.

The tract has been in the Fisher family for the last 95 years. Recently Fisher has been selling small parcels to home builders and in the deal which transferred the 67-acres on the north side of the Lincoln highway, he retained a small plot on the south, which includes his home, where he will continue to reside. After clearing up some of his business affairs, he expects to take a European tour later in the year.

CROWDS GREET FIRST CIRCUS

Gentry-Patterson Shows Exhibit in West End.

Today is circus day in East Liverpool.

Arriving here shortly after 6 o'clock this morning from Uhrichsville, the Gentry Brothers-James Patterson circus pitched their tents at Patterson field for afternoon and evening exhibitions.

A street parade was given shortly before 12 o'clock. Brightly painted wagons, attractively decorated horses and ponies, pretty women, clowns, cowboys and cowgirls, calliopes, bands, elephants and camels took part in the pageant which passed over the principal down town thoroughfares.

Upon orders of Superintendent of Schools F. P. Geiger, schools were dismissed at 11 o'clock to permit the children to see the parade. Thousands of spectators, the majority of them youngsters, watched the colorful procession.

The afternoon performance started at 2 o'clock, the doors being opened an hour earlier to permit patrons to visit the zoo. The evening performance is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. Despite the steady downpour of rain during the last few days, the circus grounds were in good condition.

Dog and pony acts were featured by the circus. The entire program was carried out in two rings and a stage. Hippodrome races were also presented. A dozen or more clowns went through many funny antics that especially pleased the children.

The circus is charging a pre-war admission price of 50 cents. A corresponding reduction in price has been made for reserved seats.

The show will exhibit in Ambridge, Pa., tomorrow.

anyhow, if she will only keep her head she will float."

That's what we say to Europe.

Dr. Mangold, serious scientist of Berlin, discovers that worms actually sing, in a sort of "syncopated rhythm." The voice of the worm, singing in chorus, can be heard 12 yards away. To many this will add a new horror to death. It's bad enough to be put down where the worms live, without having them sing about it, especially a syncopated song.

President Coolidge's good speech concerning the Jews praised their patriotic character and faithfulness to the land of their adoption.

It may be added that the Jews contribute to a nation something even more valuable than mere loyalty. They make those around them think.

Heine made all Germany and 50 other nations think, and think hard. He made the Hohenzollerns think so hard that they never would allow a statue of him to be put up in Germany.

And Spinoza, a Portuguese Jew, for 300 years has been supplied to the philosophers of the world the basis of sound thinking.

He has been to them what the supply of stock is to the chef in making his soup. Such a man does not have an easy life. The synagogue excommunicated him, one of his co-religionists attempted to assassinate him. That didn't disturb him. He was a philosopher.

"French columns drive back Moors heading for Fez" and "French defeat Riffs in Morocco affrays."

That's the latest concerning the effort of Riff tribes to drive the French from Africa. The Riffs charged France at the wrong time. Once in a "winning streak" the French do not stop. They will not be stopped by a Riff army, equipped as the Riffs are.

The days when Mohammed died and mounted up to heaven from the sacred rock at Mecca, came back to guide his warriors to victory on every field, are gone.

And gone are the days when that same Mohammed, turning his eyes up to Allah, could throw a handful of dust up into the air and change it into legions of mounted horsemen.

Mohammed and Allah had their chance to rule the world, but Charles the Hammer, son of Pepin, fighting French man of the seventh century, took it away from them. It won't come back. Frenchmen of today fight as well as "the Hammer" did. And they have brains enough to do their fighting from the air, safe for them, hard on the human rabbits below them.

French troops in Syria have been obliged to kill 39 and wound many in order to discourage a revival of ancient customs in a village of fanatics. Those fanatics burned alive all the members of two families because they refused to accept as genuine a local prophet named Ali. Once such burnings alive were correct and customary all through Christendom, as well as in the Moslem world. We have improved.

ence as to whether or not she was taken into custody.

Robert Crowe, state's attorney, was still nursing his wrath which inspired his caustic comment on yesterday's developments in the case, and when asked concerning Mrs. Shepherd's detention said sharply: "I'm not the sheriff."

He made no effort to conceal the fact that he was highly displeased at the fact that Mrs. Shepherd had been drawn into the case at this time. His public statement after the coroner's jury's findings became known yesterday showed this.

12 MORE SHIPS IN LIQUOR WAR

Whisky Prices Soar as Foreign Vessels are "Bottled up."

NEW YORK, May 6.—Bucking a 40-mile gale, 12 additional coast guard vessels put to sea early today to reinforce the government fleet that has so successfully "bottled up" the foreign vessels at "Rum Row" that not a single case of whisky or champagne was smuggled into New York in the last 24 hours.

While these new vessels were hemming in the rum fleet, 21 other coast guard vessels stood ready to speed to their aid if the rum vessels attempt to break up and make contact with shore boats at isolated places.

With the price of "real Scotch" whisky having been freely offered in the "market" throughout New York at $6 a bottle and a case at from $40 to $60—depending on quality—a sharp rise came in the price. In the uptown district prices were being quoted at $75 for the "real stuff."

$35,000 Motor Boat Burned.

The sudden activity of the government, following closely on the institution of the "padlock court" and District Attorney Buckner's campaign against New York's famed "supper clubs," was expected to shoot the price of liquor to the highest point since the Volstead measure became a law.

One of the swiftest motorboats in the rum trade was a charred mass of wood and iron at Seabright, N. J., today. Its loss was placed at $35,000. A man, unidentified, but whom government officers said they believed was the owner of the boat, set fire to it after it had been seized.

A number of the coast guard vessels are equipped with one-pound guns. These, officials said, were to warn vessels, rather than for purposes of attack. While no definite instructions were given the government fleet, it was said, no attempt would be made to board any of the rum vessels because of their foreign registry. The most effective means of stopping the smuggling will be to keep the rum fleet "hemmed in," it was said.

R. Q. Merrick, federal prohibition director of New York, said he believed rum runners were beginning to feel the full weight of government enforcement and that bootleggers soon will be looking for new occupations.

Stop It or It Will Stop You Neglect Exacts a Heavy Price

That catarrhal condition in your nose and throat is the forerunner of serious trouble if you don't take it in hand. It will not get well of itself, nor will it stay where it is. Afterwhile it will spread to your stomach, and if you fail to check it will become the source of all sorts of trouble.

Found Out the Trouble

"I neglected the catarrh in my head until it seemed to go all through my system. My whole body was failing me. I became constipated, my skin turned sallow, but failed to realize that catarrh was back of all my troubles. Because I read that World's Tonic was a wonderful strengthener, I began to take it. The first bottle made me feel a lot better, but when I had taken three I saw that my catarrh was clearing up. As I got relief from that I began to get well, and now with the catarrh all gone I'm a different man—well and look it." Mr. W. W. Hatcher, 1007 Dresden avenue, East Liverpool, Ohio.

If we could only get this message over to you—that catarrh is at the base of all kinds of illnesses — we should be performing a wonderful service to mankind. World's Tonic conquers catarrh. It builds up the body at the same time. That is why hundreds of people right in this town speak so well of it. Sold by Carnahan's, also Brannan's, Wellsville, and all reliable druggists.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 6.—Publicity utility stocks held the center of the stage in the early trading in the stock market today. The oil stocks were fairly active and steady, but there was no general movement in these stocks.

The cut of 3 cents a gallon in gasoline prices by the Texas company was not immediately followed by the Standard Oil company's serving this territory, though officials stated that they were considering the matter.

Listed public utility stocks continued their spectacular forward movement. When Electric Light and power, which is recently graduated from the cub, pushed up to 27, Utah Securities gained 8 points more and sold at 116½, up one hundred points from its low of last year. This stock is exchangeable for four shares of Electric Power with an extra bonus of $10 in cash.

Columbia Gas and Electric, Consolidated Gas, Montana Power, North American and Philadelphia company led the smart rally in the utilities, withp rices at or near the high for the year. American Water Works was active.

A new high aggregate of weekly carloadings for the year to date in the week of April 25 was taken as a good evidence of domestic business activity. Loadings reached a new high total of 929,225 cars the highest since January 10. Call money rates opened at 3¾ for renewals. Grain and cotton were fairly steady in the early trading.

United States Steel's advance to above 116 was the feature of the industrial stocks. Other high priced leaders were inclined to hold back on profit-taking and the list was slightly reactionary, though inactive. A number of the independent steel stocks sold at fractionally higher prices reflecting the recent advance in prices of manufactured steel products.

Fruit Crop Outlook In Northern Ohio O. K. Says Truax

COLUMBUS, May 6. — Excellent prospects for fruit crops in northern Ohio, with less encouraging outlook for such crops in southern counties were reported today by Charles V. Truax, director of agriculture.

The summer apple crop is spotted, with a full crop indicated in the lake counties and a poor crop along the Ohio river, C. J. West, agricultural statistician, said. A 100 per cent peach crop is looked for along the lake, but a very poor crop is expected in the southern part of the state, due to freezing of buds. Conditions indicate a 75 to 90 per cent winter apple crop in Ohio river counties. Poorer of apples are expected in the lake counties.

Pears and cherries will make a 40 per cent showing in southern Ohio, with expectations of a full crop in the northern half of the state, West predicted.

Pantano, another member of the gang that murdered two Brooklyn bank messengers. Pantano is in the death cell in Sing Sing, awaiting action on his appeal for a new trial. Cleveland Carmen Vote on Strike as Closed Shop is Hit

COLUMBUS, May 6.—Decision of the state supreme court that employers of labor need not carry out contracts with union labor if such contracts contain a clause requiring employment only of union workers, is interpreted by attorneys here as being limited to employers holding a monopoly in their field.

CLEVELAND, May 6. — Strike-breakers were being mobilized in Buffalo by the Cleveland Railroad company today pending the outcome of the vote of Cleveland carmen to decide whether a strike will be called.

Opinion at the car barns today was that there would be no strike despite the fact that the Ohio supreme court handed down a ruling against a closed shop on the grounds that the car company was a public utility, and denied the car men's demand for a 12 cent an hour increase.

Bulletins were posted at the car barns today announcing that the shops were still open and that a five-cent an hour increase was in effect.

anyhow, if she will only keep her head she will float."

That's what we say to Europe.

Dr. Mangold, serious scientist of Berlin, discovers that worms actually sing, in a sort of "syncopated rhythm." The voice of the worm, singing in chorus, can be heard 12 yards away.

To many this will add a new horror to death. It's bad enough to be put down where the worms live, without having them sing about it, especially a syncopated song.

President Coolidge's good speech concerning the Jews praised their patriotic character and faithfulness to the land of their adoption.

It may be added that the Jews contribute to a nation something even more valuable than mere loyalty. They make those around them think.

Heine made all Germany and 50 other nations think, and think hard. He made the Hohenzollerns think so hard that they never would allow a statue of him to be put up in Germany.

And Spinoza, a Portuguese Jew, for 300 years has been supplied to the philosophers of the world the basis of sound thinking.

He has been to them what the supply of stock is to the chef in making his soup. Such a man does not have an easy life. The synagogue excommunicated him, one of his co-religionists attempted to assassinate him. That didn't disturb him. He was a philosopher.

"French columns drive back Moors heading for Fez" and "French defeat Riffs in Morocco affrays."

That's the latest concerning the effort of Riff tribes to drive the French from Africa. The Riffs charged France at the wrong time. Once in a "winning streak" the French do not stop. They will not be stopped by a Riff army, equipped as the Riffs are.

The days when Mohammed died and mounted up to heaven from the sacred rock at Mecca, came back to guide his warriors to victory on every field, are gone.

And gone are the days when that same Mohammed, turning his eyes up to Allah, could throw a handful of dust up into the air and change it into legions of mounted horsemen.

Mohammed and Allah had their chance to rule the world, but Charles the Hammer, son of Pepin, fighting French man of the seventh century, took it away from them. It won't come back. Frenchmen of today fight as well as "the Hammer" did. And they have brains enough to do their fighting from the air, safe for them, hard on the human rabbits below them.

French troops in Syria have been obliged to kill 39 and wound many in order to discourage a revival of ancient customs in a village of fanatics. Those fanatics burned alive all the members of two families because they refused to accept as genuine a local prophet named Ali. Once such burnings alive were correct and customary all through Christendom, as well as in the Moslem world. We have improved.

ence as to whether or not she was taken into custody.

Robert Crowe, state's attorney, was still nursing his wrath which inspired his caustic comment on yesterday's developments in the case, and when asked concerning Mrs. Shepherd's detention said sharply: "I'm not the sheriff."

He made no effort to conceal the fact that he was highly displeased at the fact that Mrs. Shepherd had been drawn into the case at this time. His public statement after the coroner's jury's findings became known yesterday showed this.

12 MORE SHIPS IN LIQUOR WAR

Whisky Prices Soar as Foreign Vessels are "Bottled up."

NEW YORK, May 6.—Bucking a 40-mile gale, 12 additional coast guard vessels put to sea early today to reinforce the government fleet that has so successfully "bottled up" the foreign vessels at "Rum Row" that not a single case of whisky or champagne was smuggled into New York in the last 24 hours.

While these new vessels were hemming in the rum fleet, 21 other coast guard vessels stood ready to speed to their aid if the rum vessels attempt to break up and make contact with shore boats at isolated places.

With the price of "real Scotch" whisky having been freely offered in the "market" throughout New York at $6 a bottle and a case at from $40 to $60—depending on quality—a sharp rise came in the price. In the uptown district prices were being quoted at $75 for the "real stuff."

$35,000 Motor Boat Burned.

The sudden activity of the government, following closely on the institution of the "padlock court" and District Attorney Buckner's campaign against New York's famed "supper clubs," was expected to shoot the price of liquor to the highest point since the Volstead measure became a law.

One of the swiftest motorboats in the rum trade was a charred mass of wood and iron at Seabright, N. J., today. Its loss was placed at $35,000. A man, unidentified, but whom government officers said they believed was the owner of the boat, set fire to it after it had been seized.

A number of the coast guard vessels are equipped with one-pound guns. These, officials said, were to warn vessels, rather than for purposes of attack. While no definite instructions were given the government fleet, it was said, no attempt would be made to board any of the rum vessels because of their foreign registry. The most effective means of stopping the smuggling will be to keep the rum fleet "hemmed in," it was said.

R. Q. Merrick, federal prohibition director of New York, said he believed rum runners were beginning to feel the full weight of government enforcement and that bootleggers soon will be looking for new occupations.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 6.—Publicity utility stocks held the center of the stage in the early trading in the stock market today. The oil stocks were fairly active and steady, but there was no general movement in these stocks.

The cut of 3 cents a gallon in gasoline prices by the Texas company was not immediately followed by the Standard Oil company's serving this territory, though officials stated that they were considering the matter.

Listed public utility stocks continued their spectacular forward movement. When Electric Light and power, which is recently graduated from the cub, pushed up to 27, Utah Securities gained 8 points more and sold at 116½, up one hundred points from its low of last year. This stock is exchangeable for four shares of Electric Power with an extra bonus of $10 in cash.

Columbia Gas and Electric, Consolidated Gas, Montana Power, North American and Philadelphia company led the smart rally in the utilities, withp rices at or near the high for the year. American Water Works was active.

A new high aggregate of weekly carloadings for the year to date in the week of April 25 was taken as a good evidence of domestic business activity. Loadings reached a new high total of 929,225 cars the highest since January 10. Call money rates opened at 3¾ for renewals. Grain and cotton were fairly steady in the early trading.

United States Steel's advance to above 116 was the feature of the industrial stocks. Other high priced leaders were inclined to hold back on profit-taking and the list was slightly reactionary, though inactive. A number of the independent steel stocks sold at fractionally higher prices reflecting the recent advance in prices of manufactured steel products.

Witness Admits he Told False Story to Condemn Three Men

NEW YORK, May 6.—Nicholas (Checks) Luciano was silent today, after repeating over and over again that the testimony with which he helped to send Morris and Joseph Diamond and John Farina to the electric chair, was false, Lusiano decided he had said enough and refused to discuss the case further. He even refused the offer of counsel, unless he was indicted. He was held without bail on a short affidavit charged with perjury for hearing May 12.

The grand jury will investigate his disappearance after he declared that his testimony against the Diamond brothers and Farina was false. His retraction was made before the second trial of Anthony J. Pantano, another member of the gang that murdered two Brooklyn bank messengers. Pantano is in the death cell in Sing Sing, awaiting action on his appeal for a new trial. Two juries have convicted him.

Injunction Against Workers in Panhandle District Sought.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 6.—Application for a blanket injunction restraining officers and members of the United Mine Workers of America from interfering in any way with the mines of 15 coal companies in the Panhandle district, was made in federal district court here today.

Cleveland Carmen Vote on Strike as Closed Shop is Hit

COLUMBUS, May 6.—Decision of the state supreme court that employers of labor need not carry out contracts with union labor if such contracts contain a clause requiring employment only of union workers, is interpreted by attorneys here as being limited to employers holding a monopoly in their field.

CLEVELAND, May 6. — Strikebreakers were being mobilized in Buffalo by the Cleveland Railroad company today pending the outcome of the vote of Cleveland carmen to decide whether a strike will be called.

Opinion at the car barns today was that there would be no strike despite the fact that the Ohio supreme court handed down a ruling against a closed shop on the grounds that the car company was a public utility, and denied the car men's demand for a 12 cent an hour increase.

Bulletins were posted at the car barns today announcing that the shops were still open and that a five-cent an hour increase was in effect.

Stop It or It Will Stop You Neglect Exacts a Heavy Price

That catarrhal condition in your nose and throat is the forerunner of serious trouble if you don't take it in hand. It will not get well of itself, nor will it stay where it is. Afterwhile it will spread to your stomach, and if you fail to check it will become the source of all sorts of trouble.

Found Out the Trouble

"I neglected the catarrh in my head until it seemed to go all through my system. My whole body was failing me. I became constipated, my skin turned sallow, but failed to realize that catarrh was back of all my troubles. Because I read that World's Tonic was a wonderful strengthener, I began to take it. The first bottle made me feel a lot better, but when I had taken three I saw that my catarrh was clearing up. As I got relief from that I began to get well, and now with the catarrh all gone I'm a different man—well and look it." Mr. W. W. Hatcher, 1007 Dresden avenue, East Liverpool, Ohio.

If we could only get this message over to you—that catarrh is at the base of all kinds of illnesses — we should be performing a wonderful service to mankind. World's Tonic conquers catarrh. It builds up the body at the same time. That is why hundreds of people right in this town speak so well of it. Sold by Carnahan's, also Brannan's, Wellsville, and all reliable druggists.

UNABLE TO RUN TO FIRES, "STUBBY," CRIPPLED DOG, FLEES ENGINE HOUSE

CHICAGO, April — Even a dog has pride.

"Stubby," pet of Engine Company No. 11, recently was run over and seriously injured when she ran to a fire, missed the engine wagon and fell under a following truck.

Of course, it made no difference in the affection the firemen had for "Stubby" when it seemed certain that one of her legs would be paralyzed permanently. She would become a pampered pensioner, they said.

But "Stubby" brooded and worried. She stirred restlessly every time the big fire wagon careened out of the company fire house and left her behind.

Then came another alarm, "Stubby" arose from her bed in the rear of the engine house after the wagons had left. Poised on her three good legs, she took a long and last look around, limped to the door and out into the street.

"Stubby" would not be a burden to her friends. When a dog runs to fires, chases cats, catches rats and mice and plays with firemen, she earns her "keep." But when she does nothing but lie around and lick the hands of ministering friends—

Well, even a dog has pride.

"Stubby" is still missing from the engine house.

ATHENS, May.—The Athens County Red Cross society is making an appeal to farmers for seed potatoes for the [illegible] dens of the idle coal miners of the [illegible]cking field. TROUBLED FOR YEARS WITH INDIGESTION

Mr. Allan Small, of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I have always lived in fear of heart trouble—my father, as well as my mother's sister, died from this dreaded affliction when I was a child. As it was on both sides of my family and I had often heard it was hereditary, I lived in dread and fear.

"As I have had at intervals severe abdominal pains, heart-burn and pressure on the heart, I felt there was no relief so I became reconciled to the horrible truth I was doomed, nothing could be done and must await my time to go as my father and mother's sister. I never dreamed I might only have intestinal indigestion, and my trouble was sour and acid stomach, causing gas pressure on the heart. Thanks to a friend who suggested Carter's Little Liver Pills as a remedy for faulty intestinal elimination, I am now free from the dreaded fear and enjoy all around good health. Small pills, easy to take and relieve the bowels in a rational way, with pleasant after effects." For sale at all druggists.

Chrysler Alone Gives Chrysler Results

The Sedan

How highly the public prizes Chrysler performance, Chrysler riding qualities, Chrysler economy and Chrysler appearance is abundantly indicated by the car's constantly increasing popularity. The simple fact is that the Chrysler Six—and only the Chrysler—delivers results the public is eager to enjoy.

This is perfectly understandable when you really know the car, what it is like and what it does. It is unlike all other cars. With a touring car weight, ready for the road, of 2875 pounds, the Chrysler Six can be driven in comfort at 60 miles and upwards over rutted roads and cobbled streets.

Two advanced features contribute materially to the greater satisfaction enjoyed by Chrysler owners: a new type of spring mounting with rear springs close to the hubs and parallel to the wheels and the Chrysler-Lockheed hydraulic self-equalizing four-wheel brakes.

Owners will tell you what these typical Chrysler features mean in finer riding qualities and greater security of control. But no accurate conception is really possible unless you ride in the car. We are always eager to give you that opportunity.

The Touring Car	$1395	The Royal Coupe	$1895
The Phaeton	1495	The Brougham	1965
The Roadster	1625	The Imperial	2065

TROUBLED FOR YEARS WITH INDIGESTION

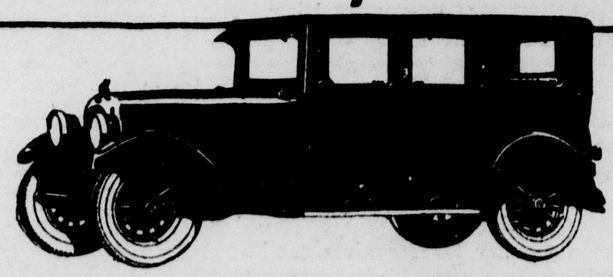

Mr. Allan Small, of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I have always lived in fear of heart trouble—my father, as well as my mother's sister, died from this dreaded affliction when I was a child. As it was on both sides of my family and I had often heard it was hereditary, I lived in dread and fear.

"As I have had at intervals severe abdominal pains, heart-burn and pressure on the heart, I felt there was no relief so I became reconciled to the horrible truth I was doomed, nothing could be done and must await my time to go as my father and mother's sister I never dreamed I might only have intestinal indigestion, and my trouble was sour and acid stomach, causing gas pressure on the heart. Thanks to a friend who suggested Carter's Little Liver Pills as a remedy for faulty intes-final elimination, I am now free from the dreaded fear and enjoy all around good health. Small pills, easy to take and relieve the bowels in a rational way, with pleasant after effects." For sale at all druggists.

Chrysler Alone Gives Chrysler Results

The Sedan

How highly the public prizes Chrysler performance, Chrysler riding qualities, Chrysler economy and Chrysler appearance is abundantly indicated by the car's constantly increasing popularity. The simple fact is that the Chrysler Six—and only the Chrysler—delivers results the public is eager to enjoy.

This is perfectly understandable when you really know the car, what it is like and what it does. It is unlike all other cars. With a touring car weight, ready for the road, of 2875 pounds, the Chrysler Six can be driven in comfort at 60 miles and upwards over rutted roads and cobbled streets.

Two advanced features contribute materially to the greater satisfaction enjoyed by Chrysler owners: a new type of spring mounting with rear springs close to the hubs and parallel to the wheels and the Chrysler-Lockheed hydraulic self-equalizing four-wheel brakes.

Owners will tell you what these typical Chrysler features mean in finer riding qualities and greater security of control. But no accurate conception is really possible unless you ride in the car. We are always eager to give you that opportunity.

The Touring Car	$1395	The Royal Coupe	$1895
The Phaeton	1495	The Brougham	1965
The Roadster	1625	The Imperial	2065
The Sedan	1825	The Crown-Imperial	2195

All prices f. o. b. Detroit subject to current government tax.

The World's Roads

The fifth International Road congress is going to be held next year in Milan, Italy. That is appropriate. It was Italy that first taught the world how to build roads. And in spite of all our modern progress, it is doubtful whether there have ever been such good roads built since as were laid out under the old Roman emperors, nearly 2,000 years ago, radiating from Rome to all parts of the great empire.

Those Roman roads were built mostly of cut stone. Their foundations were so solid and their drainage was so good that long sections of them are still used, in England, France, Italy and Spain, with a modern surfacing of concrete, macadam or asphalt. One of their characteristics is that they pretty much ignore the topography of the country, starting out in a straight line and going right up over hills that happen to get in the way, instead of winding around them. Our modern engineers take easier grades and avoid obstacles where they can. And they have learned many new tricks. Yet there should be inspiration in going back to Italy for paving ideas.

International Fear

Fear, says Carrie Chapman Catt, the veteran woman suffrage leader, is the chief cause of war. From national fear of other nations come suspicion and distrust, resulting in "an urge to prepare for defense, with a resulting competition in armament."

There is another cause, she admits—the ambition to exploit other lands. But she is doubtless right in saying that fear comes first in importance.

So a purely defensive instinct becomes the cause of wholesale slaughter. And in the working out of defensive policy, even deliberate aggression is usually made to bear the guise of defense. Nations thus attack other nations "to protect themselves."

Eliminate our fear of foreigners, then, and you eliminate war. Which sounds simple, but is very difficult and complicated, because the foreigners themselves fear you.

Fear is the cause of most other evils, too. Love is a great force, when once aroused. "Perfect love casteth out fear." But Christendom is still far from this Christian ideal. It is still a world of fear, and therefore a world of cruelty. It is something, though, to have the key to a better world. Some day humanity will know how to use it.

Law For The Nations

Senator Borah, chairman of the senate committee on international relations, holds that American approval of the world court should wait for the codification of international law. His idea is that then the work of the court would be more clearly defined and its judgments more definite and trustworthy.

Secretary of State Kellogg disagrees with him.

"If we wait until international law is codified," says the secretary, "there will be no court." He holds that international law is much like our own common law, and cannot be codified definitely like a body of legislative statutes. It has to be flexible in order to meet new conditions as they arise.

The principles of international law, he recognizes, can be put into shape to which the nations may agree. He believes in that, but says it will be a matter of slow growth. Also that it can be best promoted by upholding the world court, because the court in the course of its regular work will be continually making international law more definite and applying old principles to modern situations.

End of The Suffrage Road

The National Woman Suffrage association has disbanded. Success, its leaders say, has made its continuance unnecessary. So 500 veterans have met, celebrated the victory, talked over the long, hard, 70-year fight, and gone their several ways.

The movement began, as some of the women recalled, with rotten eggs thrown at their orators. It ended with bands playing, their sex an equal power with men at the polls, and their representatives in all but the very highest offices in the land, and perhaps destined to arrive there.

It has been a great fight, and the records thereof, left to historical institutions, may be considered both curious and precious a thousand years hence.

But is it really the end of the road? It looks more like the beginning of a new road. The ballot in itself means nothing. What it is used for means everything.

The Crazy Egg-Diver

There's a big difference in point of view. An Italian, in his native land, bet that he could jump from a height of 100 feet into water with an egg in his hand without injury to himself or the egg.

He did it, winning his bet. But the local authorities found him insane and had him placed in an asylum.

In this country, surely, he would have been signed up for vaudeville or the movies. Egg-diving contests would have become the range. A new popular song would have been written about him.

The export business isn't quite so remunerative, since foreign nations substitute promissory notes for money.

The Terrible Tempered Mr. Bang Disperses The Unemployed—

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 6.—Each midnight supper club strikes a fresh note of dazzling splendor. It is interesting to watch the crowds from the sidelines. The glittering ensemble is laden with deception. Men come to show their ladies and ladies come to show their gowns.

There are shadowy nooks where husbands on the loose may escape prying eyes. A flirtatious lady was left standing for a few moments by her monocled escort. She hastily scribbled a note on the back of a menu. And I saw the waiter slip it to the orchestra's blond young saxophonist.

They exchanged knowing glances. And when the escort returned she was apparently thrilling to his presence. At another table was a famous man about town. His chin is shot with parafine to keep him looking youthful. In the heat the parafine melted and his chin bulged with turns of his head.

There was the aesthetic dancer who fox-trotted in felt bedroom slippers and had one arm entirely covered with bracelets. Fanny Ward the actress, was there. Fanny at 63, looking under 30. And always the life of the party.

A debutante, with buck teeth and her impoverished Argentine. A famous actor recently divorced with his current wife—and looking fearfully bored. Fat buyers who would return to hotel rooms to postcard their wives: "Mighty lonely. Wish you were here."

The orchestra's quick cord. The calcium light and the imported dancer floats out like a puff ball. Her partner smirks and pirouttes in the offing. About all he contributes to the entertainment is perspiration. Lights up. And the dance goes on.

A lady very anxious to be admired wears a rhinestone beauty spot. A waiter captain hurries from table to table to whisper a warning. Two derbied men come in and look about. Not a flask is in sight. Only innocuous looking drinks.

A supper club crowd reveals many women who are making their last stand against wrinkles—and oblivion. There is something tragic about them. Most of them came to New York in the fresh bloom of young womanhood hugging their big dreams. They beat their wings against the Broadway lights and are scorched. They have tasted the froth and are now nearing the dregs. There is the machine-made glow of the beauty parlor about them. Their companions are usually beefy men with glittering little pig eyes and the women seem ashamed of them but prefer them to home and loneliness.

The heaviest gambling game New York has ever known is taking place. It changes location nightly and only those who are known to be "safe" are admitted. It is a dice game and thousands of dollars exchange hands at each sitting. One man is known to have lost $700,000 in one week. The man who runs the game takes no chance on gunmen holding up the players. He has his own gun to protect them and if a player wins heavily he is escorted home by a brace of them. To give it a dignified and gentlemanly touch it is insisted that each player wear formal dress.

One of the heavy gamblers is a man who is said to have made quite a fortune designing millinery for ladies. He is also said to be a consistent winner. He is foppish in dress and manner and very excitable save when he gambles. No matter how large the bet he never turns a hair.

A smart haberdesher declares silk shirts are coming back into style. For two years the linen and madras shirts have been the thing. He says the new silk shirt will be of plain white material and will have a soft collar of the same material. No colored designs are to be shown.

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Peru's Climate Changes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—Meteorologists are studying with a great deal of interest the extraordinary phenomenon which is occurring in connection with the climate of Peru. So far, the information is somewhat fragmentary on the scientific side, but there seems to be no mistake in the fact that the climate of a whole country has been materially altered, almost overnight.

It appears that the climate of Peru has been governed by a cold ocean current which flows northward from the frigid waters of the Antarctic sea. The current has moved along the west coast of South America, working up as far as Peru, cooling the air and affecting rainfall.

Peru is not far south of the equator and without this current the climate would be much more torrid, as has been proven by recent events. The countries the same distance to the north of the equator that Peru is to the south, are much hotter, save in the mountainous regions. Inland from Peru, in the basin of the Amazon, the climate is much hotter, as the influence of the cold current is dissipated by the barrier of the Andes mountains.

Only recently a radical change has taken place in the flow of the cold current. An ocean current is a very definite river. Different currents move at varying rates of speed. The Gulf Stream, for instance, flows about four miles an hour or about as fast as a strong horse walks. This means that one great mass of water is moving along in a certain direction between two masses which are not moving save for the tidal swings and the running of the waves. That is, instead of running between land banks, these ocean currents flow between banks of other water. There is a marked difference in the temperature, the salinity, and even in the color of ocean currents as compared with the adjacent sea water. The Gulf Stream, for example, is of a much deeper blue which makes the surrounding sea appear a metallic green compared with it.

Current Swings Seaward.

Now what has happened in Peru is that such a current has for some strange reason which scientists have not yet ascertained, swung seaward. Instead of following the shore line all the way up the coast, the current has moved westward out into the Pacific Ocean.

The result of this extraordinary maneuver on the part of the stream has been materially to alter the climate of Peru, with strange effects.

With the cold current away from the coast, the warm waters of the equatorial region have flowed southward. These warm waters have changed the climate of the whole littoral. For centuries Peru had had a steady climate with definite rainy and

HASKIN'S LETTER

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Peru's Climate Changes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—Meteorologists are studying with a great deal of interest the extraordinary phenomenon which is occurring in connection with the climate of Peru. So far, the information is somewhat fragmentary on the scientific side, but there seems to be no mistake in the fact that the climate of a whole country has been materially altered, almost overnight.

It appears that the climate of Peru has been governed by a cold ocean current which flows northward from the frigid waters of the Antarctic sea. The current has moved along the west coast of South America, working up as far as Peru, cooling the air and affecting rainfall.

Peru is not far south of the equator and without this current the climate would be much more torrid, as has been proven by recent events. The countries the same distance to the north of the equator that Peru is to the south, are much hotter, save in the mountainous regions. Inland from Peru, in the basin of the Amazon, the climate is much hotter, as the influence of the cold current is dissipated by the barrier of the Andes mountains.

Only recently a radical change has taken place in the flow of the cold current. An ocean current is a very definite river. Different currents move at varying rates of speed. The Gulf Stream, for instance, flows about four miles an hour or about as fast as a strong horse walks. This means that one great mass of water is moving along in a certain direction between two masses which are not moving save for the tidal swings and the running of the waves. That is, instead of running between land banks, these ocean currents flow between banks of other water. There is a marked difference in the temperature, the salinity, and even in the color of ocean currents as compared with the adjacent sea water. The Gulf Stream, for example, is of a much deeper blue which makes the surrounding sea appear a metallic green compared with it.

Current Swings Seaward.

Now what has happened in Peru is that such a current has for some strange reason which scientists have not yet ascertained, swung seaward. Instead of following the shore line all the way up the coast, the current has moved westward out into the Pacific Ocean.

The result of this extraordinary maneuver on the part of the stream has been materially to alter the climate of Peru, with strange effects.

With the cold current away from the coast, the warm waters of the equatorial region have flowed southward. These warm waters have changed the climate of the whole littoral. For centuries Peru had had a steady climate with definite rainy and

Soda Acts Bad in Stomach

Forms Harmful Gases, Creates more Acidity

While soda temporarily relieves sour, acid stomach, soda afterwards causes the stomach to secrete more acids and gases than before, making matters worse.

Prove this for yourself. Place in a glass of water a little vinegar or lemon juice. This represents the acid in your stomach. Then add a pinch of baking soda (bicarbonate of soda) and instantly thousands of bubbles of gas are formed. This same thing happens in your stomach when you take soda for sour stomach. Gas is rapidly formed and the bloating, belching, shortness of breath and palpitation are increased, leaving your stomach in a more acid condition than before.

Now make this same test with "Phillips Milk of Magnesia." No gases are formed—no bubbles at all. Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it is more pleasant to take. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drug store.

Feature Three Stars In "The Spaniard", At Ceramic Theatre

The Raoul Walsh-Paramount production, "The Spaniard," adapted from Juanita Savage's novel of that name and featuring Ricardo Cortez, Jetta Goudal and Noah Beery, is the feature at the Ceramic theater today.

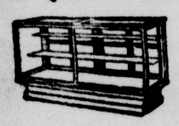

"The Spaniard," written for the screen by J. T. O'Donohoe, is sort of combination of "Blood and Sand" and "The Sheik." As Don Pedro De Barrego, Cortez, while visiting in London, falls in love with pretty Dolores Annesley (Miss Goudal), a notorious heart-breaker. Now The Spaniard has feminine London society practically at his feet, and it disturbs him not a little to be toyed with by this youngster. He determines to tame her.

As the picture progresses, Dolores learns that her latest conquest is nothing but a common bull-fighter, while The Spaniard, as part of his plan to bring her to her senses, has her carried a captive to his castle in the mountains. She attempts to escape and Don Pedro orders her to her room where a scene, of which you ha[illegible] yet to see the equal, takes place. [illegible]e Spaniard cows the girl into submission with a wicked looking whip and then, repenting for his harshness, consents to take Dolores riding. The girl takes advantage of this opportunity to escape. But it is a case of stepping from the frying pan into the fire, for she falls into the hands of a bandit gang. The Spaniard comes to the rescue, all differences are patched up and everything ends happily enough for all concerned.

WEIRTON WOMAN IS GUN VICTIM

When Mrs. Julia Schoscovich, 46, boarding house proprietress at Weirton, refused to wash a shirt for one of her boarders, yesterday, he shot her in the abdomen. The woman is dying in the Ohio Valley hospital in Steubenville.

The boarder, Joe Golovich, 34, was placed under arrest by Hancock county authorities and is in the county jail at New Cumberland. A formal charge has not yet been lodged against him pending the result of his victim's wound. Should she die he will be charged with murder, Prosecutor Hoffman said. Golovich, was intoxicated when arrested and according to Chief of Police Perry L. Brooks confessed to the shooting, saying: "She wouldn't wash my shirt and I got mad and fired one shot from my revolver," but I didn't mean to hit her."

Rev. B. H. Pocock, pastor of the Nazarene church, is attending the annual assembly meeting of the Pittsburgh district which opened last evening in the Nazarene church, East Liverpool.

DISASTROUS FIRE BEING PROBED

Brooke county authorities are conducting a rigid investigation into the fire that destroyed three non-union miners' settlement houses early Tuesday morning at the West Virginia Pittsburgh Coal company mines at Hoover Heights, north of Wellsburg entailing an estimated loss of $30,000. It is believed that the fire was due to the work of incendiaries.

O. J. Kyes, superintendent of the West Virginia Pittsburgh Coal company at Wellsburg, yesterday bore out the contention of the county authorities that the fire was the work of incendiaries with the statement that three men were seen running from the vicinity of the blaze just before it was discovered.

The blaze was discovered in the home of Mrs. George Pateo, who awakened others in adjoining houses with her screams. Mrs. Patteo lost $300 in cash which she had left hidden in the house under a carpet. Two other persons escaped possible cremation by leaping from the second story window of one of the dwellings. Fire companies from Wellsburg and Follansbee prevented the flames from spreading.

COAL OPERATORS FAVOR MERGER

Southern West Virginia coal operators, representing the Winding Gulf, New River and Pocahontas coal fields and all the territory served by the Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio and Virginian railroads, almost unanimously agree on the opening of the Deepwater outlet for coal shipments, the establishment of through competitive rates and the leasing of the Virginian railway to either the Chesapeake and Ohio railway or the Norfolk and Western.

The merger of the Virginian railway with another great railroad system will result in many benefits to the shippers of southern West Virgina, it is pointed out, by opening to them new western markets. It is contended by some, however, that a lease of the Virginian to the Norfolk and Western would be less beneficial to the local fields than a lease to the Chesapeake and Ohio. This, they hold, is true, because the Norfolk and Western is a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania system, whose interest are supposed to be hostile to the development of West Virginia coal, and might not, therefore, be expected to favor West Virginia shipping. It is further pointed out that an outlet for western tonnage from Virginia mines through the Norfolk and Western point of egress by way of Matoaka, would not be satisfactory, as the route is over a single track, winding railway, which would be nearly 50 miles out of the way, taking a direct course south before starting on the stretch to the north. The yards and switches at Matoaka are also declared to be incapable of handling West Virginia shipments in time of stress.

Funeral services for Charles, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben H. Moore, were held this afternoon in the home at Middle Run, Rev. B. H. Pocock, pastor of the Nazarene church, in charge. Burial was made in Locust Hill cemetery.

A HOME WITHOUT CHILDREN
Lacks the Greatest Joys of Life
Many Wives are Childless Because of Ill Health. Read How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Mrs. Benedict

MRS. MARY R. BENEDICT
513 PAYSON STREET, KEWANEE, ILLINOIS

Kewanee, Illinois. — "When I was married about a year and a half I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because of ill health. I did not have any children. I now have two healthy little girls and I am sure I would not have had them had it not been for your medicine. Last spring and summer I got all run down, irregular, and I had awful headaches, and my back and side hurt me so that I could stay up only a short time. My limbs would get so tired and ache till I could cry. I started to take the Vegetable Compound again and used the Sanative Wash, and it was not long till I was relieved. Now I do all my own work and help others. I sure praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines to any one I meet that is suffering from similar troubles. I think if mothers with girls would give it to them when they come to womanhood it would make them stronger. People who have known me all my life are astonished to see me now as I was always sickly when in my 'teens until I started taking the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. MARY R. BENEDICT, 313 Payson Street, Kewanee, Ill.

Has a Beautiful Baby Girl Now

Bridport, Vermont.—"In the first place I wanted a baby, but none seemed to come to me. I just love children and my husband is away all day, so I was not happy at all. A doctor told me I could not have a baby until I went to a hospital. But my sisters said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you will be O.K.' I was nervous, had organic weakness, with backache, sideache, headache and no strength. I had been in bed nearly a week when I began taking the Vegetable Compound. It was all that ever helped me and I just wish you could see my beautiful baby girl. I am fine now, and so is she. I am still taking the medicine as it keeps me well. You may be sure I am recommending the Vegetable Compound and always will."—Mrs. A. W. HOWE, Bridport, Vermont.

WEIRTON WOMAN IS GUN VICTIM

Shot by Boarder for Refusing to Wash His Shirt.

When Mrs. Julia Schoscorich, 46, boarding house proprietress at Weirton, refused to wash a shirt for one of her boarders, yesterday, he shot her in the abdomen. The woman is dying in the Ohio Valley hospital in Steubenville.

The boarder, Joe Golovich, 34, was placed under arrest by Hancock county authorities and is in the county jail at New Cumberland. A formal charge has not yet been lodged against him pending the result of his victim's wound. Should she die he will be charged with murder, Prosecutor Hoffman said. Golovich, was intoxicated when arrested and according to Chief of Police Perry L. Brooks confessed to the shooting, saying: "She wouldn't wash my shirt and I got mad and fired one shot from my revolver," but I didn't mean to hit her."

Attending Assembly.

Rev. B. H. Pocock, pastor of the Nazarene church, is attending the annual assembly meeting of the Pittsburgh district which opened last evening in the Nazarene church, East Liverpool.

DISASTROUS FIRE BEING PROBED

Brooke county authorities are conducting a rigid investigation into the fire that destroyed three non-union miners' settlement houses early Tuesday morning at the West Virginia Pittsburgh Coal company mines at Hoover Heights, north of Wellsburg entailing an estimated loss of $30,000. It is believed that the fire was due to the work of incendiaries.

O. J. Kyes, superintendent of the West Virginia Pittsburgh Coal company at Wellsburg, yesterday bore out the contention of the county authorities that the fire was the work of incendiaries with the statement that three men were seen running from the vicinity of the blaze just before it was discovered.

The blaze was discovered in the home of Mrs. George Pateo, who awakened others in adjoining houses with her screams. Mrs. Patteo lost $300 in cash which she had left hidden in the house under a carpet. Two other persons escaped possible cremation by leaping from the second story window of one of the dwellings. Fire companies from Wellsburg and Follansbee prevented the flames from spreading.

COAL OPERATORS FAVOR MERGER

Southern West Virginia coal operators, representing the Winding Gulf, New River and Pocahontas coal fields and all the territory served by the Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio and Virginian railroads, almost unanimously agree on the opening of the Deepwater outlet for coal shipments, the establishment of through competitive rates and the leasing of the Virginian railway to either the Chesapeake and Ohio railway or the Norfolk and Western.

The merger of the Virginian railway with another great railroad system will result in many benefits to the shippers of southern West Virgina, it is pointed out, by opening to them new western markets. It is contended by some, however, that a lease of the Virginian to the Norfolk and Western would be less beneficial to the local fields than a lease to the Chesapeake and Ohio. This, they hold, is true, because the Norfolk and Western is a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania system, whose interest are supposed to be hostile to the development of West Virginia coal, and might not, therefore, be expected to favor West Virginia shipping. It is further pointed out that an outlet for western tonnage from Virginia mines through the Norfolk and Western point of egress by way of Matoaka, would not be satisfactory, as the route is over a single track, winding railway, which would be nearly 50 miles out of the way, taking a direct course south before starting on the stretch to the north. The yards and switches at Matoaka are also declared to be incapable of handling West Virginia shipments in time of stress.

FUNERAL KNELL OF MAN'S RULE OF EARTH TOLLED, WOMEN LEADERS DECLARE

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The funeral knell of man's rule of the earth has been tolled, in the opinion of leading delegates to the convention of the International Council of Women.

A revolutionary entrance of women, during the next few decades, into politics and other activities, heretofore regarded by man as being his exclusive province, was forecast today.

Labor-saving household inventions, universal education and the world's need of intelligent leadership are the forces which will elevate women to a parity with man in every important activity, the delegates declared.

"Women's intuition and man's cleverness will make an ideal combination for the solving of political problems," Frau Betsy Kjeldsberg, president of the Norwegian National Council of Women, declared today.

"In 50 years at the most women will have an equal representation with man in the political councils of all nations. They will be particularly valuable in handling financial problems. Don't wives the world over prove this by their efficiant treatment of their husband's pay check."

Frau Kjeldsberg believes that women will vote for individuals rather than parties, because as a whole they take their vote privileges seriously and do not follow the masculine practice of "voting the ticket straight."

Ruth Farnam, New York club woman and war worker, agreed with Frau Kjeldsberg.

Women First, Competitors Afterwards

"Politics will not change women from their present outlook toward life. They will be women first and competitors of man in world affairs afterward," she said.

"Once the family is raised, and with modern household conveniences, it is even possible that before the children are grown, women generally will be able to find their particular vocation in life. Some may prefer home life, but many undoubtedly will seek careers."

"Women's main activities will be centered on improving living conditions. They will aid in stamping out child labor, increasing education and strengthening the race through improved sanitation."

Women's entrance into politics, although it is coming the world over during the next few years, will not change her domestic life, Mme. Avril De Sainte Croix, noted French club woman, asserted.

Although South America has not yet received universal suffrage, Miss Mary Higham, of Joahnnesburg, declared it is coming—and soon.

"Women of all lands will be voting in a few years and their influence on world problems will be profound. For the first time in history, we are on the verge of securing 'our place in the sun.'

"The barriers that have existed from early days when 'manly strength' ruled, are now being overturned. Education and the world's need of leadership will provide women a secure position in all lands," she said.

FUNERAL KNELL OF MAN'S RULE OF EARTH TOLLED, WOMEN LEADERS DECLARE

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The funeral knell of man's rule of the earth has been tolled, in the opinion of leading delegates to the convention of the International Council of Women.

A revolutionary entrance of women, during the next few decades, into politics and other activities, heretofore regarded by man as being his exclusive province, was forecast today.

Labor-saving household inventions, universal education and the world's need of intelligent leadership are the forces which will elevate women to a parity with man in every important activity, the delegates declared.

"Women's intuition and man's cleverness will make an ideal combination for the solving of political problems," Frau Betsy Kjeldsberg, president of the Norwegian National Council of Women, declared today.

"In 50 years at the most women will have an equal representation with man in the political councils of all nations. They will be particularly valuable in handling financial problems. Don't wives the world over prove this by their efficiant treatment of their husband's pay check."

Frau Kjeldsberg believes that women will vote for individuals rather than parties, because as a whole they take their vote privileges seriously and do not follow the masculine practice of "voting the ticket straight."

Ruth Farnam, New York club woman and war worker, agreed with Frau Kjeldsberg.

"Women's main activities will be centered on improving living conditions. They will aid in stamping out child labor, increasing education and strengthening the race through improved sanitation."

Women's entrance into politics, although it is coming the world over during the next few years, will not change her domestic life, Mme. Avril De Sainte Croix, noted French club woman, asserted.

Women First, Competitors Afterwards

"Politics will not change women from their present outlook toward life. They will be women first and competitors of man in world affairs afterward," she said.

"Once the family is raised, and with modern household conveniences, it is even possible that before the children are grown, women generally will be able to find their particular vocation in life. Some may prefer home life, but many undoubtedly will seek careers."

Although South America has not yet received universal suffrage, Miss Mary Higham, of Joahnnesburg, declared it is coming—and soon.

"Women of all lands will be voting in a few years and their influence on world problems will be profound. For the first time in history, we are on the verge of securing 'our place in the sun.'

"The barriers that have existed from early days when 'manly strength' ruled, are now being overturned. Education and the world's need of leadership will provide women a secure position in all lands," she said.

Fisher, better known to his host of friends and acquaintances as "Charley," and these many friends will be pleased to learn of the experience Charley has had with Ka-di-ok, the herbal system toner. Mr. Fisher resides at 1218 Ridge avenue, Sharpsville, and for the past 23 years has been in the employ of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Electric Railway Co. He holds a 38-year membership in Lodge No. 163, Knights of Pythias, as well as being a member of the Odd Fellows' Lodge of Sharpville, and the Knights of Malta Lodge at Sharon, Pa.

For quite a long time Mr. Fisher suffered from stomach trouble, his chief complaint being a feeling of sleepiness and lassitude after eating his meals, also a stiffness in his limbs. In fact, he felt tired all the time, as he explained it to the Ka-di-ok representative, and had rheumatic pains in his limbs.

Told by a friend of the wonderful action of Ka-di-ok, he began taking it, and after the first bottle says he "feels like a new man in every way." He now sleeps well, feels fine in the mornings, and has no rheumatic pains, no distress in his stomach, his nerves are just right, and he states "I can not say too much for Ka-di-ok, as it has done wonders for me in every way, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Others suffering from similar conditions should benefit by Mr. Fisher's experience. Not only in cases similar to the above, but Ka-di-ok is recommended for kidney and liver ailments, rheumatism, and conditions generally arising from a disordered stomach.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. 6th street.

dry seasons. The primary effect, in addition to raising the temperature, has been to cause torrential and almost constant rains. These have resulted in floods which have swept away railroads, highway bridges and other structures, have ruined crops and have put electric light and power lines out of commission.

One of the greatest copper mines in the world is the Cerro de Pasco mine in Peru. Its operations have been completely halted by the floods. While the company has some ore at the seacoast, it has been unable to move any more down to take care of further orders and has been unable to ship in mining timbers and other supplies. Operations are at a standstill and apparently will be for some time.

Lesser mines are understood to be in the same predicament with little present prospect for improvement.

Peru has many ancient river beds which for centuries have been merely dry arropos, that is, open canyons with no water flowing in them, or at most a little stream in rainy seasons. These have become roaring cascades. The rail lines and highways which sometimes followed these beds are submerged. Reports to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce say that many whole trains of cars are in these flooded canyons.

Many Lives Have Been Lost.

Loss of life also has been heavy and still the rains continue. A natural result, in view of the threat to the crops and the destruction of large quantities of what already was growing, has been the soaring upward of food prices in the cities of Peru. Cities have been without light and power because of the destruction of power plants and transmission lines.

So far, the reports say, the government of Peru has not needed any outside relief, but it is thought likely that if the situation does not improve, aid from other nations will be required.

There are no records of any such sudden radical change before. When it is realized that the temperature of the ocean off Peru has risen a full 20 degrees above normal, it will be seen that the whole climate of the country has undergone a change. And if the current does not return to its old course, the new and hotter climate will be permanent. This will alter the whole life and industries of the country. Crops which were raised before probably will not thrive in the more torrid heat. The effect on animal life probably will be important, different species inhabiting the country.

Scientists are watching with great interest for signs of changes, resulting from the shift in this current, in other parts of the world. It is claimed by some meteorologists that distinct climatic changes in one part of the world are likely to alter temperatures and rainfall elsewhere, possibly very far away. It is conceded that if the Gulf Stream should move eastward out into the Atlantic to any great distance, New England would become so cold as to be almost uninhabitable. Similarly, should the Gulf Stream move further from the west coast of England and Ireland those would become extremely cold countries where few crops could be raised.

It is to be expected that scientific study of the phenomenon in the Pacific will reveal some interesting data regarding ocean currents and their effects on mankind.

RAIL MOTORMAN TELLS STORY OF WONDER WORKER

Prominent Lodgeman of Sharpsville, Pa., Can Not Say Too Much in Praise of the Great Herbal Tonic, Ka-di-ok.

CHARLES W. FISHER

Perhaps there is no better known citizen of Sharpsville, Pa., than Charles W. Fisher, better known to his host of friends and acquaintances as "Charley," and these many friends will be pleased to learn of the experience Charley has had with Ka-di-ok, the herbal system toner. Mr. Fisher resides at 1218 Ridge avenue, Sharpsville, and for the past 22 years has been in the employ of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Electric Railway Co. He holds a 38-year membership in Lodge No. 163, Knights of Pythias, as well as being a member of the Odd Fellows' Lodge of Sharpsville, and the Knights of Malta Lodge at Sharon, Pa.

For quite a long time Mr. Fisher suffered from stomach trouble, his chief complaint being a feeling of sleepiness and lassitude after eating his meals, also a stiffness in his limbs. In fact, he felt tired all the time, as he explained it to the Ka-di-ok representative, and had rheumatic pains in his limbs.

Told by a friend of the wonderful action of Ka-di-ok, he began taking it, and after the first bottle says he "feels like a new man in every way." He now sleeps well, feels fine in the mornings, and has no rheumatic pains, no distress in his stomach, his nerves are just right, and he states "I can not say too much for Ka-di-ok, as it has done wonders for me in every way, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Others suffering from similar conditions should benefit by Mr. Fisher's experience. Not only in cases similar to the above, but Ka-di-ok is recommended for kidney and liver ailments, rheumatism, and conditions generally arising from a disordered stomach.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. 6th street.

dry seasons. The primary effect, in addition to raising the temperature, has been to cause torrential and almost constant rains. These have resulted in floods which have swept away railroads, highway bridges and other structures, have ruined crops and have put electric light and power lines out of commission.

One of the greatest copper mines in the world is the Cerro de Pasco mine in Peru. Its operations have been completely halted by the floods. While the company has some ore at the seacoast, it has been unable to move any more down to take care of further orders and has been unable to ship in mining timbers and other supplies. Operations are at a standstill and apparently will be for some time.

Lesser mines are understood to be in the same predicament with little present prospect for improvement.

Peru has many ancient river beds which for centuries have been merely dry arropos, that is, open canyons with no water flowing in them, or at most a little stream in rainy seasons. These have become roaring cascades. The rail lines and highways which sometimes followed these beds are submerged. Reports to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce say that many whole trains of cars are in these flooded canyons.

Many Lives Have Been Lost.

Loss of life also has been heavy and still the rains continue. A natural result, in view of the threat to the crops and the destruction of large quantities of what already was growing, has been the soaring upward of food prices in the cities of Peru. Cities have been without light and power because of the destruction of power plants and transmission lines.

So far, the reports say, the government of Peru has not needed any outside relief, but it is thought likely that if the situation does not improve, aid from other nations will be required.

There are no records of any such sudden radical change before. When it is realized that the temperature of the ocean off Peru has risen a full 20 degrees above normal, it will be seen that the whole climate of the country has undergone a change. And if the current does not return to its old course, the new and hotter climate will be permanent. This will alter the whole life and industries of the country. Crops which were raised before probably will not thrive in the more torrid heat. The effect on animal life probably will be important, different species inhabiting the country.

Scientists are watching with great interest for signs of changes, resulting from the shift in this current, in other parts of the world. It is claimed by some meteorologists that distinct climatic changes in one part of the world are likely to alter temperatures and rainfall elsewhere, possibly very far away. It is conceded that if the Gulf Stream should move eastward out into the Atlantic to any great distance, New England would become so cold as to be almost uninhabitable. Similarly, should the Gulf Stream move further from the west coast of England and Ireland those would become extremely cold countries where few crops could be raised.

It is to be expected that scientific study of the phenomenon in the Pacific will reveal some interesting data regarding ocean currents and their effects on mankind.

Basketball League Place For Ceramic City Is Believed Assured

Frank Allison Posts $1,000 For Franchise In National Circuit

East Liverpool Representative Makes Deposit Four Weeks in Advance of Date Set at Cleveland Conference.

A franchise for East Liverpool in the American Basketball league, a 12-club circuit including many metropolitan cities, is virtually assured.

Frank Allison, member of the original Ceramic City cage quintet which defeated all comers in 1904-5 and representing East Liverpool in the organization of the professional league, announced today that he had posted $1,000 required for berth in the circuit.

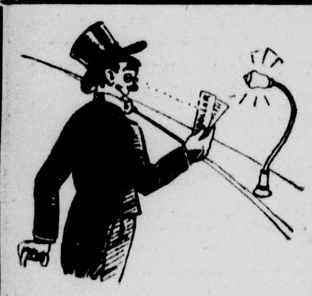

This money was deposited in Cleveland, in keeping with the decision of representatives of 12 cities who attended the first conference in the Forest City about two weeks ago.

Action taken then called for the $1,000 deposit on or before June 1, although notice of the intention to seek a place in the circuit was to have been given on or before May 15. Allison, assured of the necessary financial support in the venture, did not lose any time in acting.

Information given Allison within the last few days indicates East Liverpool will be given a place in the league.

DEMPSEY READY TO DEFEND HIS TITLE, HE SAYS

Champ, Off to Europe, Declares he Awaits Suitable Offer.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Jack Dempsy, surrounded by friends just before sailing for Europe today on the Berengaria, declared that nothing, except the lack of a suitable offer, could or would stop him from defending his title before the end of the impending outdoor season.

The champion made this statement after being informed that the New York State Athletic commission believes it has discovered a weapon whereby it expects to force him into the ring against Harry Wills. The weapon, according to the commission, will prompt one of two results.

Either Dempsey will meet Wills, as demanded, or Jack Kearns will not be allowed to manage Mickey Walker during his big "Shots in New York.

"That's all right, only there will be no forcing necessary with me" Dempsey said, smilling a bit. "I've said I'm willing to fight Wills and I mean it. I want to fight; it is my business and means a large part of my income. I am not even interested in what this weapon may be. My main interest now is to enjoy myself in Europe and to get myself ready for a fight when I return."

The weapon referred to is merely this: Kearns, as manager of Dempsey, has neglected to accept Wills' challenge. Kearns, as manager of Walker, will shortly apply for a license here if he expects to handle Mickey and the manager's cut during the fight with Harry Greb at the Polo Grounds on June 19.

The commission will play one factor against the other and deny Kearns a license to manage Walker until he accepts the Wills' defi as manager of Dempsey.

In brief, it begins to look as though the inevitable showdown on the Dempsey-Wills controversy is beginning to materialize. It is a showdown that seems likely to find Kearns holding a pair of deuces against a pat full.

He can not afford to let the Walker "shots" get away from him, and unless Mickey is a very generous young man, he won't pay Kearns for activities in which the latter has no part.

RUTH GETS RIDE IN WHEEL CHAIR

NEW YORK, May 6.—Babe Ruth, out for a short ride in a wheel chair yesterday through the hospital corridors, may be sufficiently recovered by next week to take a short walk, it was stated today.

WILL SANDE UPSET DERBY DOPE?

EARL H. SANDE

If Earl Sande, intrepid jockey, rides in the Kentucky derby, all winter and early season dope on the entries that historic event may just as well be thrown into the junk heap. For Sande's presence in the jockey list will have more influence among the close followers of the game than time trials, rail tips and whatnot.

Sande rides winners. He is still America's premier jockey on the merits of his riding as well as his personal popularity. For that reason a horse becomes a favorite when Sande mounts his back.

At the writing Sande is expected to ride for either Ham Keene, the man who has first call on his services, or Bud Fisher. Sande rode Nellie Morse to victory in the Preakness for Fisher last year and has ridden several other Fisher mounts with success. Fisher has asked Keene to let Sande ride Swope in the Churchill Downs event.

Sande's victory with "Worthmore" in the Paumonok handicap for three-year-olds at Jamaica the other day merely verified the general belief that the little jockey, though he may not be entirely recovered from his injuries, has not lost a whit of the courage he had before his almost fatal spill.

Sande's first victory on his return to the saddle this spring was on the famous Sarazen. Riding for Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt II, Sande carried his illustrous mount to a new track record at Havre de Grace. Sande accepted Sarazen for his "comeback" believing that the horse would bring him luck. He had ridden Sarazen before with marked success.

Sarazen ran his first race at Long Island two years ago and Sande was atop him. Five days later Sande won the Champagne stakes with him. At the 1923 fall meeting at Havre de Grace Sande again rode him to victory.

Last summer, before Sande's unfortunate injury, he had ridden again Aqueduct.

Sande is due to ride Fisher's Swope in the Preakness, May 8. His success and Swope's form that day may have a direct bearing on Sande's plans for the Derby.

DUNDEE LOSES, BUT UNBURIED

Sid Terris Wins Verdict at Madison Square Obsequies.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Taps had sounded today for old Madison Square Garden, but the veteran Johnny Dundee was still unburied. A possible contender in many more fights. He took a defeat at the hands of the young and agile Sid Terris, but there was no dishonor attendant on Dundee's part in the obsequies for the memorable old temple of the prize ring, convention deadlocks and rodeos.

There were sounds of dissent from the galleries over the decision which gave Terris the final victory in the Garden. Many of the attendants at the last rites would have been content had the outcome officially been a draw for Dundee. But it was sympathy for the veteran who was making another appearance in the place where he won the pugilistic heights that swayed these partisans. Dundee had two great rounds, the fourth and seventh, and at times had Terris backing away, but almost won but four rounds to Terris' six. The other two were even.

Famous figures who attended the last show in the garden included Jack and Mrs. Dempsey, John Ringling, Johnny Mullen, Jimmy DeForest, "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, Senator James L. Walker, William Muldoon and a host of others to whom the passing of the garden brought a sentimental pang.

Tagging The Bases

The American league race became tighter than a Scotchman during thrift week when Chicago won as Philadelphia, Washington and Cleveland, the leaders, lost. The White Sox beat Cleveland, 7 to 2, hitting the ball hard and often while Ted Blankenship bore down on Speaker's sluggers.

Ty Cobb tied the modern big league record by polling three homers, a double and two singles off six St. Louis pitchers in six times at bat, the Tigers winning by a score of 14 to 8. Sisler hit safely in his twentieth consecutive game.

The Yankees broke their losing streak of five straight by trimming the Athletics, 8 to 4.

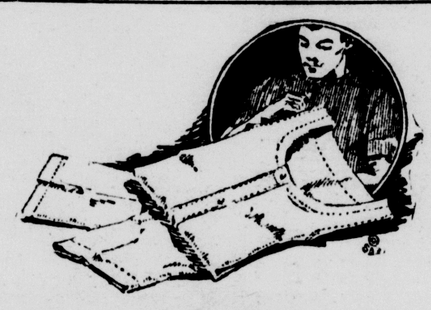

The Red Sox mauled five Washington pitchers and won, going away, 9 to 4.

John Scott, the perennial comeback, lost his first decision of the season when the Phillies climbed aboard him for a 13 to 5 victory, the Giants being helpless against Knight after the third inning.

Grimes, human salivary gland, was at his liquid best and the Dodgers easily beat the Braves, 6 to 1.

Basketball League Place For Ceramic City Is Believed Assured

Frank Allison Posts $1,000 For Franchise In National Circuit

East Liverpool Representative Makes Deposit Four Weeks in Advance of Date Set at Cleveland Conference.

A franchise for East Liverpool in the American Basketball league, a 12-club circuit including many metropolitan cities, is virtually assured.

Frank Allison, member of the original Ceramic City cage quintet which defeated all comers in 1904-5 and representing East Liverpool in the organization of the professional league, announced today that he had posted $1,000 required for berth in the circuit.

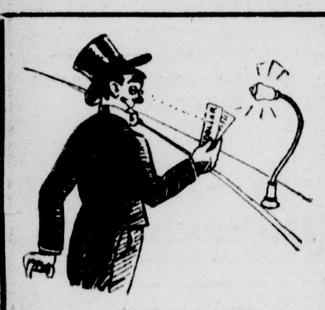

This money was deposited in Cleveland, in keeping with the decision of representatives of 12 cities who attended the first conference in the Forest City about two weeks ago.

Action taken then called for the $1,000 deposit on or before June 1, although notice of the intention to seek a place in the circuit was to have been given on or before May 15. Allison, assured of the necessary financial support in the venture, did not lose any time in acting.

Information given Allison within the last few days indicates East Liverpool will be given a place in the league.

The stranger who picked four winners, but couldn't find any bookmaker to take the bets.

The fellow who has to dig down for cash for a wife who picks horses by their names.

The lady who drops and breaks her field glasses at the most exciting moment in the big race.

The dame who asks you what time it is just when the nags are staging a blanket finish in the last sixteenth.

DEMPSEY READY TO DEFEND HIS TITLE, HE SAYS

Champ, Off to Europe, Declares he Awaits Suitable Offer.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Jack Dempsy, surrounded by friends just before sailing for Europe today on the Berengaria, declared that nothing, except the lack of a suitable offer, could or would stop him from defending his title before the end of the impending outdoor season.

The champion made this statement after being informed that the New York State Athletic commission believes it has discovered a weapon whereby it expects to force him into the ring against Harry Wills. The weapon, according to the commission, will prompt one of two results.

Either Dempsey will meet Wills, as demanded, or Jack Kearns will not be allowed to manage Mickey Walker during his big "Shots in New York.

"That's all right, only there will be no forcing necessary with me" Dempsey said, smilling a bit. "I've said I'm willing to fight Wills and I mean it. I want to fight; it is my business and means a large part of my income. I am not even interested in what this weapon may be. My main interest now is to enjoy myself in Europe and to get myself ready for a fight when I return."

The weapon referred to is merely this: Kearns, as manager of Dempsey, has neglected to accept Wills' challenge. Kearns, as manager of Walker, will shortly apply for a license here if he expects to handle Mickey and the manager's cut during the fight with Harry Greb at the Polo Grounds on June 19.

The commission will play one factor against the other and deny Kearns a license to manage Walker until he accepts the Wills' defi as manager of Dempsey.

In brief, it begins to look as though the inevitable showdown on the Dempsey-Wills controversy is beginning to materialize. It is a showdown that seems likely to find Kearns holding a pair of deuces against a pat full.

He can not afford to let the Walker "shots" get away from him, and unless Mickey is a very generous young man, he won't pay Kearns for activities in which the latter has no part.

RUTH GETS RIDE IN WHEEL CHAIR

NEW YORK, May 6.—Babe Ruth, out for a short ride in a wheel chair yesterday through the hospital corridors, may be sufficiently recovered by next week to take a short walk, it was stated today.

WILL SANDE UPSET DERBY DOPE?

EARL H. SANDE

If Earl Sande, intrepid jockey, rides in the Kentucky derby, all winter and early season dope on the entries that historic event may just as well be thrown into the junk heap. For Sande's presence in the jockey list will have more influence among the close followers of the game than time trials, rail tips and whatnot.

Sande rides winners. He is still America's premier jockey on the merits of his riding as well as his personal popularity. For that reason a horse becomes a favorite when Sande mounts his back.

At the writing Sande is expected to ride for either Ham Keene, the man who has first call on his services, or Bud Fisher. Sande rode Nellie Morse to victory in the Preakness for Fisher last year and has ridden several other Fisher mounts with success. Fisher has asked Keene to let Sande ride Swope in the Churchill Downs event.

Sande's victory with "Worthmore" in the Paumonok handicap for three-year-olds at Jamaica the other day merely verified the general belief that the little jockey, though he may not be entirely recovered from his injuries, has not lost a whit of the courage he had before his almost fatal spill.

Sande's first victory on his return to the saddle this spring was on the famous Sarazen. Riding for Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt II, Sande carried his illustrous mount to a new track record at Havre de Grace. Sande accepted Sarazen for his "comeback" believing that the horse would bring him luck. He had ridden Sarazen before with marked success.

Sarazen ran his first race at Long Island two years ago and Sande was atop him. Five days later Sande won the Champagne stakes with him. At the 1923 fall meeting at Havre de Grace Sande again rode him to victory.

Last summer, before Sande's unfortunate injury, he had ridden again Aqueduct.

Sande is due to ride Fisher's Swope in the Preakness, May 8. His success and Swope's form that day may have a direct bearing on Sande's plans for the Derby.

DUNDEE LOSES, BUT UNBURIED

Sid Terris Wins Verdict at Madison Square Obsequies.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Taps had sounded today for old Madison Square Garden, but the veteran Johnny Dundee was still unburied. A possible contender in many more fights. He took a defeat at the hands of the young and agile Sid Terris, but there was no dishonor attendant on Dundee's part in the obsequies for the memorable old temple of the prize ring, convention deadlocks and rodeos.

There were sounds of dissent from the galleries over the decision which gave Terris the final victory in the Garden. Many of the attendants at the last rites would have been content had the outcome officially been a draw for Dundee. But it was sympathy for the veteran who was making another appearance in the place where he won the pugilistic heights that swayed these partisans. Dundee had two great rounds, the fourth and seventh, and at times had Terris backing away, but almost won but four rounds to Terris' six. The other two were even.

Famous figures who attended the last show in the garden included Jack and Mrs. Dempsey, John Ringling, Johnny Mullen, Jimmy DeForest, "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, Senator James L. Walker, William Muldoon and a host of others to whom the passing of the garden brought a sentimental pang.

ROMPER PARTY OF COLLEGE CO-EDS PUTS FRAT UNDER TWO-YEAR BAN

AUSTIN, Texas, May — Walter Splawn, president of Texas University, has announced that the Greek letter fraternity accused of giving a "romper party" to co-ed guests the night of March 23 has been placed on probation for two years, during which time the social activities of its members will be restricted under faculty supervision.

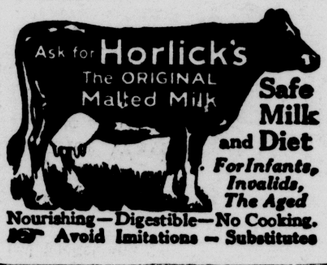

Splawn's action ends a three weeks' investigation of the alleged party, which began with the publication of stories, which were at the time indignantly denied by university officials. According to these stories the fraternity members and their fair guests met at the Austin Country club and tripped the latest steps clad in brief silken rompers, and as a grand finale drenched each other with ice water and tomato catsup. The effect of the rompers plastered against shrinking feminine forms by the ice water was variously described as exceedingly charming but shocking.

Male members of the party also, it is alleged, pinched their companions with such enthusiasm that many of the pinchees fled to the safety of the club kitchen, one of them making the journey, according to observers, clad only in slippers and a wrist watch.

Miss Lucy Newton, dean of women of the university, resigned as a protest when her recommendations for drastic action in the case were refused.

Diamonds sold by the DeBeers corporation of South Africa, last year had a total value of $17,262,000, which is $3,000,000 more than in 1923.

Unemployment is rapidly increasing in Denmark.

Battleships Fight Sharks.
Mr. Debs, Men Will Fight.
Oh! Good and Gloomy Dean
The Worms Sing. Horrors!

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(The opinions expressed in this column are strictly those of Mr. Brisbane and not necessarily in consonance with the policies of The Review-Tribune).

Spain finds good use for warships. They are sent to patrol the coasts and shoot sharks that despoil the great schools of sardines.

These Spanish sharks that destroy sardines, as a small kind of whale off the coast of Alaska, destroys the salmon, will meet "somebody their own size" when the Spanish battleships get after them.

That's the right kind of fighting for a battleship. A small part of the money now spent on war and murder would make this earth a different planet. It would end plagues, drain every swamp, irrigate all deserts. But is the human race as yet fit for such good fortune? Wouldn't it make them lazy, as the mild climate and easy food in the Pacific islands made the natives lazy?

Twenty-five thousand wanted to hear Eugene V. Debs speak in New York city on Sunday. Mr. Debs, sincere, courageous and utterly mistaken, as far off the track in this age as an old fashioned, wood burning locomotive in the middle of a cornfield, told 15,000 that he wished "the workers of this country were patriotic enough to refuse to fight in any war."

Mr. Debs wishes vainly. Our workers won't refuse to fight in any war, if it interests them, because they descend from men that have fought and have therefore survived.

Certain tribes have refused to fight. They include the timid Indians of California, satisfied to catch grasshoppers and other insects, lacking the courage to fight bigger animals and other Indians.

Asiatics living under British rule in India are "patriotic enough not to fight," and so 300,000,000 of them are ruled by a handul of Englishmen thousands of miles away.

Mr. Debs, the most independent and successful class of workers in the United States, are your associates, the locomotive engineers.

It isn't so long since they were doing the most desperate fighting ever seen in any strike. Don't advise men not to fight, unless you want them to be the slaves of somebody else. Advise them to attack only when they are right, and to defend themselves always.

The good and gloomy Dean Inge, of St. Paul's in London, wants America to "save the world." He has what seems to him an unanswerable argument. Pointing to America's prosperity, he says we have an awful lot of money, excellent credit, and it is our duty to save the world.

To that we reply, rspectfully, that if we have a lot of money and credit, it is because we have hitherto taken the advice of George Washington and attended to our own business, keeping out of war, when the world would let us, refraining from coveting our neighbors' goods and taking care of our own.

To ask one country to save the whole world is asking a good deal. It's a big world.

It is like asking Dean Inge to jump off a high cliff and save the drowning fat lady from the circus. The dean would say, "She's too heavy, and Blaze Destroys Big Cotton Warehouse in Georgia.

WALLS COLLAPSE

Fire Fighters are Buried in Flaming Debris.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 6.—Six firemen are dead and others are missing in a fire that destroyed the cotton warehouse of Schoen Brothers here today. While firemen were fighting the flames, a number of bales of cotton crashed through the floor of the second story and the walls toppled in, burying a number of firemen in the blazing debris.

The known dead are:
CAPTAIN C. O. BOWEN.
LEE SMITH.
F. F. WILSON.
LIEUT. R. L. DENNARD.
C. C. KING.
E. S. CONKLE.

The fire, which started about 3 a. m., was brought under control shortly after daylight and rescue workers began search for the victims.

MRS. SHEPHERD TO SURRENDER

Chicago Woman Held as Accessory in McClintock Case.

CHICAGO, May 6.—Mrs. Julie Shepherd, who went into hiding after a coroner's jury ordered she be held as an accessory to the alleged murders of Mrs. Emma McClintock and William Nelson McClintock, will be surrendered before nightfall to a judge of the criminal court and her release on bail will be demanded immediately.

This announcement was made today by Attorney William Scott Stewart, her counsel.

Indications were that Mrs. Shepherd would be surrendered to Judge Thomas J. Lynch who is to try her husband May 18 on the charge of having murdered Billy McClintock by the administration of typhoid germs.

The state, it is believed, will make no serious effort to prevent her release on bond.

In fact, the state's attorney's office, evidenced almost complete indiffer-

MOTHER CLAIMS SON THOUGHT DEAD 20 YEARS

Hunt for Alleged Vermont Kidnaper Reveals Tragedy.

MARRIED AGAIN

Kept Secret Birth of Earl Woodward, Ex-convict.

BROCKTON, Mass., May 6.—"I can not cast off the baby whom I believed dead."

Mrs. Jennie Woodward Sturtevant made the decision today soon after she learned that the man-hunt for Earl Woodward in the Vermont mountains had revealed that Earl is the son she thought dead 20 years.

Mrs. Sturtevant kept the tragedy of her girlhood from her present husband all these years.

Convinced that her son by her first marriage was dead, the mother said she never once dreamed the child had grown to manhood and had been behind prison bars.

Now that she has learned that he is alive she can not cast him off even though she has a husband and five children.

Mrs. Sturtevant's Story.

"He is my son," she said, "no matter what he has done or what is charged against him. It seems unfair that he should have had so much trouble in his life, poor boy."

The story of Mrs. Sturtevant begins in Manchester, N. H., when she married Pierre Limoges. They had a son, Earl, and when they separated the mother took the boy to the home of a friend at Granville, Vt.

A few years later, on the eve of her marriage in Manchester, N. H., to Simon Sturtevant, the mother learned from her father that her boy was dead.

The secret of her first marriage and the birth of her son she locked in her breast. And she had carried it there these past 20 years. Newspaper stories last week of the man-hunt in Vermont for the 27-years-old hill man who kidnaped 11-year-old Lucille Chatterton, revealed to Mrs. Sturtevant that her son still lives.

POLICE FREE LIQUOR RAIDER

Caleb S. Harris, 35, Exonerated of Hold-up Count.

Caleb S. Harris, 35, former head of the Harris-Webster Detective agency, of Steubenville, who participated in liquor raids conducted in Wellsville and East Liverpool early in January, and who was arrested in Steubenville Saturday afternoon for his alleged participation in a hold-up at Columbus, has been released from custody.

Harris was charged with complicity in the robbery of the Moorehouse-Martens payroll at Columbus a few days ago by another man. After the former detective had been taken back to Columbus, the complinant made a second confession in which Harris was exonorated.

The Steubenville detective agency was closed about two months ago following the mysterious disappearance of Harry Webster, the other member of the firm, following his indictment by the Jefferson county gran jury. Harris later moved his office furniture to Columbus. He was arrested in Steubenville while visiting friends.

EIGHT PERSONS KILLED AS INCENDIARIES FIRE SWISSVALE BUILDINGS

Workmen Search Ruins of Four Structures for Additional Bodies as County Fire Marshal Expresses Opinion That Bomb Blast May Have Caused Blaze in Pittsburgh Suburb.

HUNDREDS OF WINDOWS ARE BROKEN BY EXPLOSION; DAMAGE IS $225,000

Witnesses Report Blaze Broke Out Simultaneously in Several Places, Indicating That Gasoline Was Used to Hasten it, Investigators Say—Blackhand Plot is Suspected.

SWISSVALE, Pa., May 6.—Eight bodies had been recovered this afternoon from the ruins of the four buildings destroyed by fire, believed to have been of incendiary origin, today.

Workmen are continuing their search of the ruins for bodies, although so far as known no other persons are missing.

County Fire Marshal Thomas L. Pfarr, Coroner W. J. McGregor and chief of county detectives have joined forces in a searching investigation of the blaze, the second of its nature here within two months.

Pfarr, after a preliminary investigation, declared a bomb might have fired the buildings.

Witnesses' reports of the blaze breaking out simultaneously in several places indicated that the buildings might have been saturated with gasoline before the explosion, Pfarr said.

Fireman is Rescued.

Damage from the fire was estimated at more than $225,000, windows in 200 buildings were broken by the explosion, and several small buildings were jarred from foundations, Pfarr said. The bodies of Clemons Jeremias, 60; Richard Baldis, 7; and Anna Baldis, 37; Carl Baldis, 36; Mrs. Helen Keigler, 36; her husband, Charles Baldis, 40; Helen Jeremias, 42, and her sister, Mrs. Marie Koda, 28, have been recovered.

Victim's Bodies Charred.

All of the victims' bodies were charred and identification was established with difficulty.

The bodies of Charles Kiegler and his wife were found clasped in each other's arms beneath the heavy timbers which crushed out their lives. They apparently were trapped and determined to die together, after abandoning all hope for escape, and had knelt in prayer, clasping their arms about each other.

Fireman Jack Trax, 30, was seriously injured when he fell through the roof of a flaming building. He was rescued from death by other firemen after being severely burned.

Investigate Blackhand Theory.

The blast occurred in the fruit store of Thomas Pusatere, completely demolishing it and wrecking adjoining buildings. Other buildings in the block were badly damaged either by the blast or the fire which followed. The entire fire force of Swissvale were called out before the flames were finally brought under control.

Police are investigating the theory that the explosion was the work of the Blackhand society.

Iowa Dry Forces Say Farmers are Roadhouse Owners

DES MOINES, Ia., May 6.—Charging that Iowa farmers were turning their homes into roadhouses, and intoxicating liquors was being openly sold over the bars of saloons in Iowa cities, the Iowa Anti-Saloon league made public here today the results of its state-wide survey into the prohibition situation.

"Rampant lawlessness, increasing by leaps and bounds, is forcing Iowa to face the problem of either demanding strict enforcement of the present prohibition laws or else of modification of these laws to permit the sale of light wines and beer," the report issued by Superintendent S. P. McNaught said.

Pittsburgh Man Fined $1,000 Here; Committed to Jail

Max Cramsfield, of Pittsburgh, is held in the city jail today in default of a $1,000 fine, assessed against him by Mayor Charles Brown, upon a charge of unlawfully transporting intoxicating liquors. He will likely be committed to the county jail tonight if his fine is not paid.

Cramsfield was arrested by Chief of Police McDermott and Captain Conley at a St. Clair avenue rooming house last night. Two witnesses testified that he had been transporting bootleg liquor from Pittsburgh to this city and selling it as bonded brandy. The police say that the liquor was nothing more than distilled denatured alcohol.

67-ACRE TRACT ALONG LINCOLN WAY SOLD FOR HOME BUILDING

Donora, Pa., Company Purchases S. E. Fisher's Holdings.

NEW ALLOTMENT

Landscape Architects Engaged to Beautify "Fisher Park"

A 67-acre tract of land, located on the Lincoln highway, just outside the corporate limits, has been purchased by R. E. Hoopes and W. H. Watson of Donora, Pa., from Sanford E. Fisher, as a new home site allotment, it was announced today.

Landscape architects, engineers, public service linemen and other workmen are now engaged in improving the allotment, which will be known as "Fisher Park."

Pitkin & Mott, landscape architects of Cleveland, have been engaged to park, plant and lay out the tract. The engineers are under contract to have at least a part of the plot staked and ready for sale by June 1.

Sixteen feet of highway frontage will be cut into lots, 50 by 150 feet. The balance of the acreage will be divided into large lots, with attractive and interesting street plans to offer every advantage in the way of beauty, convenience and facility, it was declared. The streets will be hard-surfaced.

Install Service Lines.

Service lines, including water, gas and electric power, will be installed and arrangements have been made to provide every home builder with connections promptly. Four-fifths of the land is level. The level surface will obviate the need of expensive retaining walls, the owners point out.

According to Messrs. Hoopes and Watson, the investor in "Fisher Park" property will be protected by a reasonable building-line and building cost restriction. Frontage homes will be limited to a minimum of at least $4,500. The sales plan will include the usual deferred payment terms.

The tract has been in the Fisher family for the last 95 years. Recently Fisher has been selling small parcels to home builders and in the deal which transferred the 67-acres on the north side of the Lincoln highway, he retained a small plot on the south, which includes his home, where he will continue to reside. After clearing up some of his business affairs, he expects to take a European tour later in the year.

CROWDS GREET FIRST CIRCUS

Gentry-Patterson Shows Exhibit in West End.

Today is circus day in East Liverpool.

Arriving here shortly after 6 o'clock this morning from Uhrichsville, the Gentry Brothers-James Patterson circus pitched their tents at Patterson field for afternoon and evening exhibitions.

A street parade was given shortly before 12 o'clock. Brightly painted wagons, attractively decorated horses and ponies, pretty women, clowns, cowboys and cowgirls, calliopes, bands, elephants and camels took part in the pageant which passed over the principal down town thoroughfares.

Upon orders of Superintendent of Schools F. P. Geiger, schools were dismissed at 11 o'clock to permit the children to see the parade. Thousands of spectators, the majority of them youngsters, watched the colorful procession.

The afternoon performance started at 2 o'clock, the doors being opened an hour earlier to permit patrons to visit the zoo. The evening performance is scheduled to start at 8 o'clock. Despite the steady downpour of rain during the last few days, the circus grounds were in good condition.

Dog and pony acts were featured by the circus. The entire program was carried out in two rings and a stage. Hippodrome races were also presented. A dozen or more clowns went through many funny antics that especially pleased the children.

The circus is charging a pre-war admission price of 50 cents. A corresponding reduction in price has been made for reserved seats.

The show will exhibit in Ambridge, Pa., tomorrow.

anyhow, if she will only keep her head she will float."

That's what we say to Europe.

Dr. Mangold, serious scientist of Berlin, discovers that worms actually sing, in a sort of "syncopated rhythm." The voice of the worm, singing in chorus, can be heard 12 yards away.

To many this will add a new horror to death. It's bad enough to be put down where the worms live, without having them sing about it, especially a syncopated song.

President Coolidge's good speech concerning the Jews praised their patriotic character and faithfulness to the land of their adoption.

It may be added that the Jews contribute to a nation something even more valuable than mere loyalty. They make those around them think.

Heine made all Germany and 50 other nations think, and think hard. He made the Hohenzollerns think so hard that they never would allow a statue of him to be put up in Germany.

And Spinoza, a Portuguese Jew, for 300 years has been supplied to the philosophers of the world the basis of sound thinking.

He has been to them what the supply of stock is to the chef in making his soup. Such a man does not have an easy life. The synagogue excommunicated him, one of his co-religionists attempted to assassinate him. That didn't disturb him. He was a philosopher.

"French columns drive back Moors heading for Fez" and "French defeat Riffs in Morocco affrays."

That's the latest concerning the effort of Riff tribes to drive the French from Africa. The Riffs charged France at the wrong time. Once in a "winning streak" the French do not stop. They will not be stopped by a Riff army, equipped as the Riffs are.

The days when Mohammed died and mounted up to heaven from the sacred rock at Mecca, came back to guide his warriors to victory on every field, are gone.

And gone are the days when that same Mohammed, turning his eyes up to Allah, could throw a handful of dust up into the air and change it into legions of mounted horsemen.

Mohammed and Allah had their chance to rule the world, but Charles the Hammer, son of Pepin, fighting French man of the seventh century, took it away from them. It won't come back. Frenchmen of today fight as well as "the Hammer" did. And they have brains enough to do their fighting from the air, safe for them, hard on the human rabbits below them.

French troops in Syria have been obliged to kill 39 and wound many in order to discourage a revival of ancient customs in a village of fanatics. Those fanatics burned alive all the members of two families because they refused to accept as genuine a local prophet named Ali. Once such burnings alive were correct and customary all through Christendom, as well as in the Moslem world. We have improved.

ence as to whether or not she was taken into custody.

Robert Crowe, state's attorney, was still nursing his wrath which inspired his caustic comment on yesterday's developments in the case, and when asked concerning Mrs. Shepherd's detention said sharply: "I'm not the sheriff."

He made no effort to conceal the fact that he was highly displeased at the fact that Mrs. Shepherd had been drawn into the case at this time. His public statement after the coroner's jury's findings became known yesterday showed this.

12 MORE SHIPS IN LIQUOR WAR

Whisky Prices Soar as Foreign Vessels are "Bottled up."

NEW YORK, May 6.—Bucking a 40-mile gale, 12 additional coast guard vessels put to sea early today to reinforce the government fleet that has so successfully "bottled up" the foreign vessels at "Rum Row" that not a single case of whisky or champagne was smuggled into New York in the last 24 hours.

While these new vessels were hemming in the rum fleet, 21 other coast guard vessels stood ready to speed to their aid if the rum vessels attempt to break up and make contact with shore boats at isolated places.

With the price of "real Scotch" whisky having been freely offered in the "market" throughout New York at $6 a bottle and a case at from $40 to $60—depending on quality—a sharp rise came in the price. In the uptown district prices were being quoted at $75 for the "real stuff."

$35,000 Motor Boat Burned.

The sudden activity of the government, following closely on the institution of the "padlock court" and District Attorney Buckner's campaign against New York's famed "supper clubs," was expected to shoot the price of liquor to the highest point since the Volstead measure became a law.

One of the swiftest motorboats in the rum trade was a charred mass of wood and iron at Seabright, N. J., today. Its loss was placed at $35,000. A man, unidentified, but whom government officers said they believed was the owner of the boat, set fire to it after it had been seized.

A number of the coast guard vessels are equipped with one-pound guns. These, officials said, were to warn vessels, rather than for purposes of attack. While no definite instructions were given the government fleet, it was said, no attempt would be made to board any of the rum vessels because of their foreign registry. The most effective means of stopping the smuggling will be to keep the rum fleet "hemmed in," it was said.

R. Q. Merrick, federal prohibition director of New York, said he believed rum runners were beginning to feel the full weight of government enforcement and that bootleggers soon will be looking for new occupations.

Stop It or It Will Stop You
Neglect Exacts a Heavy Price

That catarrhal condition in your nose and throat is the forerunner of serious trouble if you don't take it in hand. It will not get well of itself, nor will it stay where it is. Afterwhile it will spread to your stomach, and if you fail to check it will become the source of all sorts of trouble.

Found Out the Trouble

"I neglected the catarrh in my head until it seemed to go all through my system. My whole body was failing me. I became constipated, my skin turned sallow, but failed to realize that catarrh was back of all my troubles. Because I read that World's Tonic was a wonderful strengthener, I began to take it. The first bottle made me feel a lot better, but when I had taken three I saw that my catarrh was clearing up. As I got relief from that I began to get well, and now with the catarrh all gone I'm a different man—well and look it." Mr. W. W. Hatcher, 1007 Dresden avenue, East Liverpool, Ohio.

If we could only get this message over to you—that catarrh is at the base of all kinds of illnesses — we should be performing a wonderful service to mankind. World's Tonic conquers catarrh. It builds up the body at the same time. That is why hundreds of people right in this town speak so well of it. Sold by Carnahan's, also Brannan's, Wellsville, and all reliable druggists.

REPORTS FROM STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, May 6.—Publicity utility stocks held the center of the stage in the early trading in the stock market today. The oil stocks were fairly active and steady, but there was no general movement in these stocks.

The cut of 3 cents a gallon in gasoline prices by the Texas company was not immediately followed by the Standard Oil company's serving this territory, though officials stated that they were considering the matter.

Listed public utility stocks continued their spectacular forward movement. When Electric Light and power, which is recently graduated from the cub, pushed up to 27, Utah Securities gained 8 points more and sold at 116½, up one hundred points from its low of last year. This stock is exchangeable for four shares of Electric Power with an extra bonus of $10 in cash.

Columbia Gas and Electric, Consolidated Gas, Montana Power, North American and Philadelphia company led the smart rally in the utilities, withp rices at or near the high for the year. American Water Works was active.

A new high aggregate of weekly carloadings for the year to date in the week of April 25 was taken as a good evidence of domestic business activity. Loadings reached a new high total of 929,225 cars the highest since January 10. Call money rates opened at 3¾ for renewals. Grain and cotton were fairly steady in the early trading.

United States Steel's advance to above 116 was the feature of the industrial stocks. Other high priced leaders were inclined to hold back on profit-taking and the list was slightly reactionary, though inactive. A number of the independent steel stocks sold at fractionally higher prices reflecting the recent advance in prices of manufactured steel products.

Fruit Crop Outlook In Northern Ohio O. K. Says Truax

COLUMBUS, May 6. — Excellent prospects for fruit crops in northern Ohio, with less encouraging outlook for such crops in southern counties were reported today by Charles V. Truax, director of agriculture.

The summer apple crop is spotted, with a full crop indicated in the lake counties and a poor crop along the Ohio river, C. J. West, agricultural statistician, said. A 100 per cent peach crop is looked for along the lake, but a very poor crop is expected in the southern part of the state, due to freezing of buds. Conditions indicate a 75 to 90 per cent winter apple crop in Ohio river counties. Poorer of apples are expected in the lake counties.

Pears and cherries will make a 40 per cent showing in southern Ohio, with expectations of a full crop in the northern half of the state, West predicted.

Witness Admits he Told False Story to Condemn Three Men

NEW YORK, May 6.—Nicholas (Cheeks) Luciano was silent today, after repeating over and over again that the testimony with which he helped to send Morris and Joseph Diamond and John Farina to the electric chair, was false, Lusiano decided he had said enough and refused to discuss the case further. He even refused the offer of counsel, unless he was indicted. He was held without bail on a short affidavit charged with perjury for hearing May 12.

The grand jury will investigate his disappearance after he declared that his testimony against the Diamond brothers and Farina was false. His retraction was made before the second trial of Anthony J. Pantano, another member of the gang that murdered two Brooklyn bank messengers. Pantano is in the death cell in Sing Sing, awaiting action on his appeal for a new trial. Two juries have convicted him.

Injunction Against Workers in Panhandle District Sought.

WHEELING, W. Va., May 6.—Application for a blanket injunction restraining officers and members of the United Mine Workers of America from interfering in any way with the mines of 15 coal companies in the Panhandle district, was made in federal district court here today.

The application will come up for hearing at Parkersburg June 6, and if granted, operators said, would end the coal strike in this section, which has, they admitted, seriously crippled production.

Cleveland Carmen Vote on Strike as Closed Shop is Hit

COLUMBUS, May 6.—Decision of the state supreme court that employers of labor need not carry out contracts with union labor if such contracts contain a clause requiring employment only of union workers, is interpreted by attorneys here as being limited to employers holding a monopoly in their field.

CLEVELAND, May 6. — Strikebreakers were being mobilized in Buffalo by the Cleveland Railroad company today pending the outcome of the vote of Cleveland carmen to decide whether a strike will be called.

Opinion at the car barns today was that there would be no strike despite the fact that the Ohio supreme court handed down a ruling against a closed shop on the grounds that the car company was a public utility, and denied the car men's demand for a 12 cent an hour increase.

Bulletins were posted at the car barns today announcing that the shops were still open and that a five-cent an hour increase was in effect.

PROBE OF MAN'S DEATH DELAYED

UNABLE TO RUN TO FIRES, "STUBBY," CRIPPLED DOG, FLEES ENGINE HOUSE

CHICAGO, April — Even a dog has pride.

"Stubby," pet of Engine Company No. 11, recently was run over and seriously injured when she ran to a fire, missed the engine wagon and fell under a following truck.

Of course, it made no difference in the affection the firemen had for "Stubby" when it seemed certain that one of her legs would be paralyzed permanently. She would become a pampered pensioner, they said.

But "Stubby" brooded and worried. She stirred restlessly every time the big fire wagon careened out of the company fire house and left her behind.

Then came another alarm, "Stubby" arose from her bed in the rear of the engine house after the wagons had left. Poised on her three good legs, she took a long and last look around, limped to the door and out into the street.

"Stubby" would not be a burden to her friends. When a dog runs to fires, chases cats, catches rats and mice and plays with firemen, she earns her "keep." But when she does nothing but lie around and lick the hands of ministering friends—

Well, even a dog has pride.

"Stubby" is still missing from the engine house.

TROUBLED FOR YEARS WITH INDIGESTION

Mr. Allan Small, of Brooklyn, N. Y., writes:

"I have always lived in fear of heart trouble—my father, as well as my mother's sister, died from this dreaded affliction when I was a child. As it was on both sides of my family and I had often heard it was hereditary, I lived in dread and fear.

"As I have had at intervals severe abdominal pains, heart-burn and pressure on the heart, I felt there was no relief so I became reconciled to the horrible truth I was doomed, nothing could be done and must await my time to go as my father and mother's sister I never dreamed I might only have intestinal indigestion, and my trouble was sour and acid stomach, causing gas pressure on the heart. Thanks to a friend who suggested Carter's Little Liver Pills as a remedy for faulty intestinal elimination, I am now free from the dreaded fear and enjoy all around good health. Small pills, easy to take and relieve the bowels in a rational way, with pleasant after effects." For sale at all druggists.

Chrysler Alone Gives Chrysler Results

The Sedan

How highly the public prizes Chrysler performance, Chrysler riding qualities, Chrysler economy and Chrysler appearance is abundantly indicated by the car's constantly increasing popularity. The simple fact is that the Chrysler Six—and only the Chrysler—delivers results the public is eager to enjoy.

This is perfectly understandable when you really know the car, what it is like and what it does. It is unlike all other cars. With a touring car weight, ready for the road, of 2875 pounds, the Chrysler Six can be driven in comfort at 60 miles and upwards over rutted roads and cobbled streets.

Two advanced features contribute materially to the greater satisfaction enjoyed by Chrysler owners: a new type of spring mounting with rear springs close to the hubs and parallel to the wheels and the Chrysler-Lockheed hydraulic self-equalizing four-wheel brakes.

Owners will tell you what these typical Chrysler features mean in finer riding qualities and greater security of control. But no accurate conception is really possible unless you ride in the car. We are always eager to give you that opportunity.

The World's Roads

The fifth International Road congress is going to be held next year in Milan, Italy. That is appropriate. It was Italy that first taught the world how to build roads. And in spite of all our modern progress, it is doubtful whether there have ever been such good roads built since as were laid out under the old Roman emperors, nearly 2,000 years ago, radiating from Rome to all parts of the great empire.

Those Roman roads were built mostly of cut stone. Their foundations were so solid and their drainage was so good that long sections of them are still used, in England, France, Italy and Spain, with a modern surfacing of concrete, macadam or asphalt. One of their characteristics is that they pretty much ignore the topography of the country, starting out in a straight line and going right up over hills that happen to get in the way, instead of winding around them. Our modern engineers take easier grades and avoid obstacles where they can. And they have learned many new tricks. Yet there should be inspiration in going back to Italy for paving ideas.

International Fear

Fear, says Carrie Chapman Catt, the veteran woman suffrage leader, is the chief cause of war. From national fear of other nations come suspicion and distrust, resulting in "an urge to prepare for defense, with a resulting competition in armament."

There is another cause, she admits—the ambition to exploit other lands. But she is doubtless right in saying that fear comes first in importance.

So a purely defensive instinct becomes the cause of wholesale slaughter. And in the working out of defensive policy, even deliberate aggression is usually made to bear the guise of defense. Nations thus attack other nations "to protect themselves."

Eliminate our fear of foreigners, then, and you eliminate war. Which sounds simple, but is very difficult and complicated, because the foreigners themselves fear you.

Fear is the cause of most other evils, too. Love is a great force, when once aroused. "Perfect love casteth out fear." But Christendom is still far from this Christian ideal. It is still a world of fear, and therefore a world of cruelty. It is something, though, to have the key to a better world. Some day humanity will know how to use it.

Law For The Nations

Senator Borah, chairman of the senate committee on international relations, holds that American approval of the world court should wait for the codification of international law. His idea is that then the work of the court would be more clearly defined and its judgments more definite and trustworthy.

Secretary of State Kellogg disagrees with him.

"If we wait until international law is codified," says the secretary, "there will be no court." He holds that international law is much like our own common law, and cannot be codified definitely like a body of legislative statutes. It has to be flexible in order to meet new conditions as they arise.

The principles of international law, he recognizes, can be put into shape to which the nations may agree. He believes in that, but says it will be a matter of slow growth. Also that it can be best promoted by upholding the world court, because the court in the course of its regular work will be continually making international law more definite and applying old principles to modern situations.

End of The Suffrage Road

The National Woman Suffrage association has disbanded. Success, its leaders say, has made its continuance unnecessary. So 500 veterans have met, celebrated the victory, talked over the long, hard, 70-year fight, and gone their several ways.

The movement began, as some of the women recalled, with rotten eggs thrown at their orators. It ended with bands playing, their sex an equal power with men at the polls, and their representatives in all but the very highest offices in the land, and perhaps destined to arrive there.

It has been a great fight, and the records thereof, left to historical institutions, may be considered both curious and precious a thousand years hence.

But is it really the end of the road? It looks more like the beginning of a new road. The ballot in itself means nothing. What it is used for means everything.

The Crazy Egg-Diver

There's a big difference in point of view. An Italian, in his native land, bet that he could jump from a height of 100 feet into water with an egg in his hand without injury to himself or the egg.

He did it, winning his bet. But the local authorities found him insane and had him placed in an asylum.

In this country, surely, he would have been signed up for vaudeville or the movies. Egg-diving contests would have become the range. A new popular song would have been written about him.

The export business isn't quite so remunerative, since foreign nations substitute promissory notes for money.

The Terrible Tempered Mr. Bang Disperses The Unemployed

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, May 6.—Each midnight supper club strikes a fresh note of dazzling splendor. It is interesting to watch the crowds from the sidelines. The glittering ensemble is laden with deception. Men come to show their ladies and ladies come to show their gowns.

There are shadowy nooks where husbands on the loose may escape prying eyes. A flirtatious lady was left standing for a few moments by her monocled escort. She hastily scribbled a note on the back of a menu. And I saw the waiter slip it to the orchestra's blond young saxophonist.

They exchanged knowing glances. And when the escort returned she was apparently thrilling to his presence. At another table was a famous man about town. His chin is shot with parafine to keep him looking youthful. In the heat the parafine melted and his chin bulged with turns of his head.

There was the aesthetic dancer who fox-trotted in felt bedroom slippers and had one arm entirely covered with bracelets. Fanny Ward the actress, was there. Fanny at 63, looking under 30. And always the life of the party.

A debutante, with buck teeth and her impoverished Argentine. A famous actor recently divorced with his current wife—and looking fearfully bored. Fat buyers who would return to hotel rooms to postcard their wives: "Mighty lonely. Wish you were here."

The orchestra's quick cord. The calcium light and the imported dancer floats out like a puff ball. Her partner smirks and pirouttes in the offing. About all he contributes to the entertainment is perspiration. Lights up. And the dance goes on.

A lady very anxious to be admired wears a rhinestone beauty spot. A waiter captain hurries from table to table to whisper a warning. Two derbied men come in and look about. Not a flask is in sight. Only innocuous looking drinks.

A supper club crowd reveals many women who are making their last stand against wrinkles—and oblivion. There is something tragic about them. Most of them came to New York in the fresh bloom of young womanhood hugging their big dreams. They beat their wings against the Broadway lights and are scorched. They have tasted the froth and are now nearing the dregs. There is the machine-made glow of the beauty parlor about them. Their companions are usually beefy men with glittering little pig eyes and the women seem ashamed of them but prefer them to home and loneliness.

The heaviest gambling game New York has ever known is taking place. It changes location nightly and only those who are known to be "safe" are admitted. It is a dice game and thousands of dollars exchange hands at each sitting. One man is known to have lost $700,000 in one week. The man who runs the game takes no chance on gunmen holding up the players. He has his own gun to protect them and if a player wins heavily he is escorted home by a brace of them. To give it a dignified and gentlemanly touch it is insisted that each player wear formal dress.

One of the heavy gamblers is a man who is said to have made quite a fortune designing millinery for ladies. He is also said to be a consistent winner. He is foppish in dress and manner and very excitable save when he gambles. No matter how large the bet he never turns a hair.

A smart haberdesher declares silk shirts are coming back into style. For two years the linen and madras shirts have been the thing. He says the new silk shirt will be of plain white material and will have a soft collar of the same material. No colored designs are to be shown.

LEMONS BLEACH THE SKIN WHITE

The only harmless way to bleach the skin white is to mix the juice of two lemons with three ounces of Orchard White, which any druggist will supply for a few cents. Shake well in a bottle, and you have a whole quarter-pint of the most wonderful skin whitener, softener and beautifier.

Massage this sweetly fragrant lemon bleach into the face, neck, arms and hands. It can not irritate. Famous stage beauties use it to bring that clear, youthful skin and rosy-white complexion; also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach. You must mix this remarkable lotion yourself. It can not be bought ready to use because it acts best immediately after it is prepared.

FOR ITCHING TORTURE

Use Antiseptic Liquid Zemo

There is one remedy that seldom fails to stop itching torture and relieve skin irritation, and that makes the skin soft, clear and healthy.

Any druggist can supply you with Zemo, which generally overcomes skin diseases. Eczema, Itch, Pimples, Rashes, Blackheads, in most cases quickly give way to Zemo. Frequently, minor blemishes disappear overnight. Itching usually stops instantly. Zemo is a safe, antiseptic liquid that may be applied at any time, for it does not show. Trial bottle 35c, large size $1.00. Zemo Soap, 25c. All druggists.

HASKIN'S LETTER

Peru's Climate Changes.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 6.—Meteorologists are studying with a great deal of interest the extraordinary phenomenon which is occurring in connection with the climate of Peru. So far, the information is somewhat fragmentary on the scientific side, but there seems to be no mistake in the fact that the climate of a whole country has been materially altered, almost overnight.

It appears that the climate of Peru has been governed by a cold ocean current which flows northward from the frigid waters of the Antarctic sea. The current has moved along the west coast of South America, working up as far as Peru, cooling the air and affecting rainfall.

Peru is not far south of the equator and without this current the climate would be much more torrid, as has been proven by recent events. The countries the same distance to the north of the equator that Peru is to the south, are much hotter, save in the mountainous regions. Inland from Peru, in the basin of the Amazon, the climate is much hotter, as the influence of the cold current is dissipated by the barrier of the Andes mountains.

Only recently a radical change has taken place in the flow of the cold current. An ocean current is a very definite river. Different currents move at varying rates of speed. The Gulf Stream, for instance, flows about four miles an hour or about as fast as a strong horse walks. This means that one great mass of water is moving along in a certain direction between two masses which are not moving save for the tidal swings and the running of the waves. That is, instead of running between land banks, these ocean currents flow between banks of other water. There is a marked difference in the temperature, the salinity, and even in the color of ocean currents as compared with the adjacent sea water. The Gulf Stream, for example, is of a much deeper blue which makes the surrounding sea appear a metallic green compared with it.

Current Swings Seaward.

Now what has happened in Peru is that such a current has for some strange reason which scientists have not yet ascertained, swung seaward. Instead of following the shore line all the way up the coast, the current has moved westward out into the Pacific Ocean.

The result of this extraordinary maneuver on the part of the stream has been materially to alter the climate of Peru, with strange effects.

With the cold current away from the coast, the warm waters of the equatorial region have flowed southward. These warm waters have changed the climate of the whole littoral. For centuries Peru had had a steady climate with definite rainy and

Soda Acts Bad in Stomach

Forms Harmful Gases, Creates more Acidity

While soda temporarily relieves sour, acid stomach, soda afterwards causes the stomach to secrete more acids and gases than before, making matters worse.

Prove this for yourself. Place in a glass of water a little vinegar or lemon juice. This represents the acid in your stomach. Then add a pinch of baking soda (bicarbonate of soda) and instantly thousands of bubbles of gas are formed. This same thing happens in your stomach when you take soda for sour stomach. Gas is rapidly formed and the bloating, belching, shortness of breath and palpitation are increased, leaving your stomach in a more acid condition than before.

Now make this same test with "Phillips Milk of Magnesia." No gases are formed—no bubbles at all. Instead of soda hereafter take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. Besides, it is more pleasant to take. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drug store.

"For two years I suffered agonizing pains in my stomach, belching up sour and bitter fluids and gas. Tongue always coated. Doctor were unable to help me. Feature Three Stars In "The Spaniard", At Ceramic Theatre

The Raoul Walsh-Paramount production, "The Spaniard," adapted from Juanita Savage's novel of that name and featuring Ricardo Cortez, Jetta Goudal and Noah Beery, is the feature at the Ceramic theater today. "The Spaniard," written for the screen by J. T. O'Donohoe, is sort of combination of "Blood and Sand" and "The Sheik." As Don Pedro De Barrego, Cortez, while visiting in London, falls in love with pretty Dolores Annesley (Miss Goudal), a notorious heart-breaker. Now The Spaniard has feminine London society practically at his feet, and it disturbs him not a little to be toyed with by this youngster. He determines to tame her.

As the picture progresses, Dolores learns that her latest conquest is nothing but a common bull-fighter, while The Spaniard, as part of his plan to bring her to her senses, has her carried a captive to his castle in the mountains. She attempts to escape and Don Pedro orders her to her room where a scene, of which you have yet to see the equal, takes place. The Spaniard cows the girl into submission with a wicked looking whip and then, repenting for his harshness, consents to take Dolores riding. The girl takes advantage of this opportunity to escape. But it is a case of stepping from the frying pan into the fire, for she falls into the hands of a bandit gang. The Spaniard comes to the rescue, all differences are patched up and everything ends happily enough for all concerned.

WEIRTON WOMAN IS GUN VICTIM

Shot by Boarder for Refusing to Wash His Shirt.

When Mrs. Julia Schoscorich, 46, boarding house proprietress at Weirton, refused to wash a shirt for one of her boarders, yesterday, he shot her in the abdomen. The woman is dying in the Ohio Valley hospital in Steubenville.

The boarder, Joe Golovich, 34, was placed under arrest by Hancock county authorities and is in the county jail at New Cumberland. A formal charge has not yet been lodged against him pending the result of his victim's wound. Should she die he will be charged with murder, Prosecutor Hoffman said. Golovich, was intoxicated when arrested and according to Chief of Police Perry L. DISASTROUS FIRE BEING PROBED

Brooke county authorities are conducting a rigid investigation into the fire that destroyed three non-union miners' settlement houses early Tuesday morning at the West Virginia Pittsburgh Coal company mines at Hoover Heights, north of Wellsburg entailing an estimated loss of $30,000. It is believed that the fire was due to the work of incendiaries.

O. J. Kyes, superintendent of the West Virginia Pittsburgh Coal company at Wellsburg, yesterday bore out the contention of the county authorities that the fire was the work of incendiaries with the statement that three men were seen running from the vicinity of the blaze just before it was discovered.

The blaze was discovered in the home of Mrs. George Pateo, who awakened others in adjoining houses with her screams. Mrs. Patteo lost $300 in cash which she had left hidden in the house under a carpet. Two other persons escaped possible cremation by leaping from the second story window of one of the dwellings. Fire companies from Wellsburg and Follansbee prevented the flames from spreading.

A HOME WITHOUT CHILDREN

Lacks the Greatest Joys of Life

Many Wives are Childless Because of Ill Health. Read How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Mrs. Benedict

MRS. MARY R. BENEDICT
913 PAYSON STREET, KEWANEE, ILLINOIS

Kewanee, Illinois. — "When I was married about a year and a half I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because of ill health. I did not have any children. I now have two healthy little girls and I am sure I would not have had them had it not been for your medicine. Last spring and summer I got all run down, irregular, and I had awful headaches, and my back and side hurt me so that I could stay up only a short time. My limbs would get so tired and ache till I could cry. I started to take the Vegetable Compound again and used the Sanative Wash, and it was not long till I was relieved. Now I do all my own work and help others. I sure praise Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines to any one I meet that is suffering from similar troubles. I think if mothers with girls would give it to them when they come to womanhood it would make them stronger. People who have known me all my life are astonished to see me now as I was always sickly when in my 'teens until I started taking the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. MARY R. BENEDICT, 313 Payson Street, Kewanee, Ill.

Has a Beautiful Baby Girl Now

Bridport, Vermont.—"In the first place I wanted a baby, but none seemed to come to me. I just love children and my husband is away all day, so I was not happy at all. A doctor told me I could not have a baby until I went to a hospital. But my sisters said, 'Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and you will be O.K.' I was nervous, had organic weakness, with backache, sideache, headache and no strength. I had been in bed nearly a week when I began taking the Vegetable Compound. It was all that ever helped me and I just wish you could see my beautiful baby girl. I am fine now, and so is she. I am still taking the medicine as it keeps me well. You may be sure I am recommending the Vegetable Compound and always will."—Mrs. A. W. HOWE, Bridport, Vermont.

Superintendent Robinstine of the Chester schools announced today that the annual commencement exercises would be held Thursday evening, May 21 in the First Presbyterian church. The address to the graduates will be delivered by Cloyd Goodnight, president of Bethany college. The graduating class is composed of 31 students, nine boys and 22 girls. Final examinations will begin May 13.

Baccalaureate services will be held Sunday evening, May 17, in the First Christian church. The sermon will be delivered by Rev. A. E. Sims, pastor of the church. Junior high commencement will be held Friday evening, May 22. The annual Senior-Junior banquet will be held in the dining room of the Masonic temple Wednesday evening, May 20.

It was announced today that work has been resumed on the new school building which is being erected on the site of the Rock Springs park baseball field and that every effort would be made to have the structure completed in time for occupancy at the opening of school in September.

COAL OPERATORS FAVOR MERGER

Southern West Virginia coal operators, representing the Winding Gulf, New River and Pocahontas coal fields and all the territory served by the Norfolk and Western, Chesapeake and Ohio and Virginian railroads, almost unanimously agree on the opening of the Deepwater outlet for coal shipments, the establishment of through competitive rates and the leasing of the Virginian railway to either the Chesapeake and Ohio railway or the Norfolk and Western.

The merger of the Virginian railway with another great railroad system will result in many benefits to the shippers of southern West Virgina, it is pointed out, by opening to them new western markets. It is contended by some, however, that a lease of the Virginian to the Norfolk and Western would be less beneficial to the local fields than a lease to the Chesapeake and Ohio. This, they hold, is true, because the Norfolk and Western is a subsidiary of the Pennsylvania system, whose interest are supposed to be hostile to the development of West Virginia coal, and might not, therefore, be expected to favor West Virginia shipping. It is further pointed out that an outlet for western tonnage from Virginia mines through the Norfolk and Western point of egress by way of Matoaka, would not be satisfactory, as the route is over a single track, winding railway, which would be nearly 50 miles out of the way, taking a direct course south before starting on the stretch to the north. The yards and switches at Matoaka are also declared to be incapable of handling West Virginia shipments in time of stress.

How to Solve It

Every number indicates the beginning of a word—if horizontal, crosswise, until the first shaded stop to the right; if vertical, downwards until the first shaded stop below. Compare the synonyms in the appended lists to the spaces in the diagrams and fill in the words you know. These will give you clues to the more difficult words. When completed the words should interlock perfectly.

FUNERAL KNELL OF MAN'S RULE OF EARTH TOLLED, WOMEN LEADERS DECLARE

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The funeral knell of man's rule of the earth has been tolled, in the opinion of leading delegates to the convention of the International Council of Women.

A revolutionary entrance of women, during the next few decades, into politics and other activities, heretofore regarded by man as being his exclusive province, was forecast today.

Labor-saving household inventions, universal education and the world's need of intelligent leadership are the forces which will elevate women to a parity with man in every important activity, the delegates declared.

"Women's intuition and man's cleverness will make an ideal combination for the solving of political problems," Frau Betsy Kjeldsberg, president of the Norwegian National Council of Women, declared today.

"In 50 years at the most women will have an equal representation with man in the political councils of all nations. They will be particularly valuable in handling financial problems. Don't wives the world over prove this by their efficiant treatment of their husband's pay check."

Frau Kjeldsberg believes that women will vote for individuals rather than parties, because as a whole they take their vote privileges seriously and do not follow the masculine practice of "voting the ticket straight."

Ruth Farnam, New York club woman and war worker, agreed with Frau Kjeldsberg.

"Women's main activities will be centered on improving living conditions. They will aid in stamping out child labor, increasing education and strengthening the race through improved sanitation."

Women's entrance into politics, although it is coming the world over during the next few years, will not change her domestic life, Mme. Avril De Sainte Croix, noted French club woman, asserted.

Women First, Competitors Afterwards

"Politics will not change women from their present outlook toward life. They will be women first and competitors of man in world affairs afterward," she said.

"Once the family is raised, and with modern household conveniences, it is even possible that before the children are grown, women generally will be able to find their particular vocation in life. Some may prefer home life, but many undoubtedly will seek careers."

Although South America has not yet received universal suffrage, Miss Mary Higham, of Joahnnesburg, declared it is coming—and soon.

"Women of all lands will be voting in a few years and their influence on world problems will be profound. For the first time in history, we are on the verge of securing 'our place in the sun.'

"The barriers that have existed from early days when 'manly strength' ruled, are now being overturned. Education and the world's need of leadership will provide women a secure position in all lands," she said.

RAIL MOTORMAN TELLS STORY OF WONDER WORKER

Prominent Lodgeman of Sharpville, Pa., Can Not Say Too Much in Praise of the Great Herbal Tonic, Ka-di-ok.

CHARLES W. FISHER

Perhaps there is no better known citizen of Sharpsville, Pa., than Charles W. Fisher, better known to his host of friends and acquaintances as "Charley," and these many friends will be pleased to learn of the experience Charley has had with Ka-di-ok, the herbal system toner. Mr. Fisher resides at 1218 Ridge avenue, Sharpsville, and for the past 22 years has been in the employ of the Pennsylvania-Ohio Electric Railway Co. He holds a 38-year membership in Lodge No. 163, Knights of Pythias, as well as being a member of the Odd Fellows' Lodge of Sharpville, and the Knights of Malta Lodge at Sharon, Pa.

For quite a long time Mr. Fisher suffered from stomach trouble, his chief complaint being a feeling of sleepiness and lassitude after eating his meals, also a stiffness in his limbs. In fact, he felt tired all the time, as he explained it to the Ka-di-ok representative, and had rheumatic pains in his limbs.

Told by a friend of the wonderful action of Ka-di-ok, he began taking it, and after the first bottle says he "feels like a new man in every way." He now sleeps well, feels fine in the mornings, and has no rheumatic pains, no distress in his stomach, his nerves are just right, and he states "I can not say too much for Ka-di-ok, as it has done wonders for me in every way, and I recommend it with all my heart."

Others suffering from similar conditions should benefit by Mr. Fisher's experience. Not only in cases similar to the above, but Ka-di-ok is recommended for kidney and liver ailments, rheumatism, and conditions generally arising from a disordered stomach.

Ka-di-ok is sold and recommended in East Liverpool by Mathews' Cut Rate Medicine Store, 129 W. 6th street.

dry seasons. The primary effect, in addition to raising the temperature, has been to cause torrential and almost constant rains. These have resulted in floods which have swept away railroads, highway bridges and other structures, have ruined crops and have put electric light and power lines out of commission.

One of the greatest copper mines in the world is the Cerro de Pasco mine in Peru. Its operations have been completely halted by the floods. While the company has some ore at the seacoast, it has been unable to move any more down to take care of further orders and has been unable to ship in mining timbers and other supplies. Operations are at a standstill and apparently will be for some time.

Lesser mines are understood to be in the same predicament with little present prospect for improvement.

Peru has many ancient river beds which for centuries have been merely dry arropos, that is, open canyons with no water flowing in them, or at most a little stream in rainy seasons. These have become roaring cascades. The rail lines and highways which sometimes followed these beds are submerged. Reports to the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce say that many whole trains of cars are in these flooded canyons.

Many Lives Have Been Lost.

Loss of life also has been heavy and still the rains continue. A natural result, in view of the threat to the crops and the destruction of large quantities of what already was growing, has been the soaring upward of food prices in the cities of Peru. Cities have been without light and power because of the destruction of power plants and transmission lines.

So far, the reports say, the government of Peru has not needed any outside relief, but it is thought likely that if the situation does not improve, aid from other nations will be required.

There are no records of any such sudden radical change before. When it is realized that the temperature of the ocean off Peru has risen a full 20 degrees above normal, it will be seen that the whole climate of the country has undergone a change. And if the current does not return to its old course, the new and hotter climate will be permanent. This will alter the whole life and industries of the country. Crops which were raised before probably will not thrive in the more torrid heat. The effect on animal life probably will be important, different species inhabiting the country.

Scientists are watching with great interest for signs of changes, resulting from the shift in this current, in other parts of the world. It is claimed by some meteorologists that distinct climatic changes in one part of the world are likely to alter temperatures and rainfall elsewhere, possibly very far away. It is conceded that if the Gulf Stream should move eastward out into the Atlantic to any great distance, New England would become so cold as to be almost uninhabitable. Similarly, should the Gulf Stream move further from the west coast of England and Ireland those would become extremely cold countries where few crops could be raised. It is to be expected that scientific study of the phenomenon in the Pacific will reveal some interesting data regarding ocean currents and their effects on mankind.

Basketball League Place For Ceramic City Is Believed Assured

Frank Allison Posts $1,000 For Franchise In National Circuit

East Liverpool Representative Makes Deposit Four Weeks in Advance of Date Set at Cleveland Conference.

A franchise for East Liverpool in the American Basketball league, a 12-club circuit including many metropolitan cities, is virtually assured.

Frank Allison, member of the original Ceramic City cage quintet which defeated all comers in 1904-5 and representing East Liverpool in the organization of the professional league, announced today that he had posted $1,000 required for berth in the circuit.

This money was deposited in Cleveland, in keeping with the decision of representatives of 12 cities who attended the first conference in the Forest City about two weeks ago.

Action taken then called for the $1,000 deposit on or before June 1, although notice of the intention to seek a place in the circuit was to have been given on or before May 15. Allison, assured of the necessary financial support in the venture, did not lose any time in acting.

Information given Allison within the last few days indicates East Liverpool will be given a place in the league.

DEMPSEY READY TO DEFEND HIS TITLE, HE SAYS

Champ, Off to Europe, Declares he Awaits Suitable Offer.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Jack Dempsy, surrounded by friends just before sailing for Europe today on the Berengaria, declared that nothing, except the lack of a suitable offer, could or would stop him from defending his title before the end of the impending outdoor season.

The champion made this statement after being informed that the New York State Athletic commission believes it has discovered a weapon whereby it expects to force him into the ring against Harry Wills. The weapon, according to the commission, will prompt one of two results.

Either Dempsey will meet Wills, as demanded, or Jack Kearns will not be allowed to manage Mickey Walker during his big "Shots in New York.

"That's all right, only there will be no forcing necessary with me" Dempsey said, smilling a bit. "I've said I'm willing to fight Wills and I mean it. I want to fight; it is my business and means a large part of my income. I am not even interested in what this weapon may be. My main interest now is to enjoy myself in Europe and to get myself ready for a fight when I return."

The weapon referred to is merely this: Kearns, as manager of Dempsey, has neglected to accept Wills' challenge. Kearns, as manager of Walker, will shortly apply for a license here if he expects to handle Mickey and the manager's cut during the fight with Harry Greb at the Polo Grounds on June 19.

The commission will play one factor against the other and deny Kearns a license to manage Walker until he accepts the Wills' defi as manager of Dempsey.

In brief, it begins to look as though the inevitable showdown on the Dempsey-Wills controversy is beginning to materialize. It is a showdown that seems likely to find Kearns holding a pair of deuces against a pat full.

He can not afford to let the Walker "shots" get away from him, and unless Mickey is a very generous young man, he won't pay Kearns for activities in which the latter has no part.

WILL SANDE UPSET DERBY DOPE?

EARL H. SANDE

If Earl Sande, intrepid jockey, rides in the Kentucky derby, all winter and early season dope on the entries that historic event may just as well be thrown into the junk heap. For Sande's presence in the jockey list will have more influence among the close followers of the game than time trials, rail tips and whatnot.

Sande rides winners. He is still America's premier jockey on the merits of his riding as well as his personal popularity. For that reason a horse becomes a favorite when Sande mounts his back.

At the writing Sande is expected to ride for either Ham Keene, the man who has first call on his services, or Bud Fisher. Sande rode Nellie Morse to victory in the Preakness for Fisher last year and has ridden several other Fisher mounts with success. Fisher has asked Keene to let Sande ride Swope in the Churchill Downs event.

Sande's victory with "Worthmore" in the Paumonok handicap for three-year-olds at Jamaica the other day merely verified the general belief that the little jockey, though he may not be entirely recovered from his injuries, has not lost a whit of the courage he had before his almost fatal spill.

Sande's first victory on his return to the saddle this spring was on the famous Sarazen. Riding for Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt II, Sande carried his illustrous mount to a new track record at Havre de Grace. Sande accepted Sarazen for his "comeback" believing that the horse would bring him luck. He had ridden Sarazen before with marked success.

Sarazen ran his first race at Long Island two years ago and Sande was atop him. Five days later Sande won the Champagne stakes with him. At the 1923 fall meeting at Havre de Grace Sande again rode him to victory.

Last summer, before Sande's unfortunate injury, he had ridden again Aqueduct.

Sande is due to ride Fisher's Swope in the Preakness, May 8. His success and Swope's form that day may have a direct bearing on Sande's plans for the Derby.

DUNDEE LOSES, BUT UNBURIED

Sid Terris Wins Verdict at Madison Square Obsequies.

NEW YORK, May 6.—Taps had sounded today for old Madison Square Garden, but the veteran Johnny Dundee was still unburied. A possible contender in many more fights. He took a defeat at the hands of the young and agile Sid Terris, but there was no dishonor attendant on Dundee's part in the obsequies for the memorable old temple of the prize ring, convention deadlocks and rodeos.

There were sounds of dissent from the galleries over the decision which gave Terris the final victory in the Garden. Many of the attendants at the last rites would have been content had the outcome officially been a draw for Dundee. But it was sympathy for the veteran who was making another appearance in the place where he won the pugilistic heights that swayed these partisans. Dundee had two great rounds, the fourth and seventh, and at times had Terris backing away, but almost won but four rounds to Terris' six. The other two were even.

Famous figures who attended the last show in the garden included Jack and Mrs. Dempsey, John Ringling, Johnny Mullen, Jimmy DeForest, "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, Senator James L. Walker, William Muldoon and a host of others to whom the passing of the garden brought a sentimental pang.

Tagging The Bases

The American league race became tighter than a Scotchman during thrift week when Chicago won as Philadelphia, Washington and Cleveland, the leaders, lost. The White Sox beat Cleveland, 7 to 2, hitting the ball hard and often while Ted Blankenship bore down on Speaker's sluggers.

Ty Cobb tied the modern big league record by polling three homers, a double and two singles off six St. Louis pitchers in six times at bat, the Tigers winning by a score of 14 to 8. Sisler hit safely in his twentieth consecutive game.

The Yankees broke their losing streak of five straight by trimming the Athletics, 8 to 4.

The Red Sox mauled five Washington pitchers and won, going away, 9 to 4.

John Scott, the perennial comeback, lost his first decision of the season when the Phillies climbed aboard him for a 13 to 5 victory, the Giants being helpless against Knight after the third inning.

Grimes, human salivary gland, was at his liquid best and the Dodgers easily beat the Braves, 6 to 1.

THE FAMOUS
THE STORE THAT SAVES YOU THE DIFFERENCE
EAST LIVERPOOL, O.

Stops your car Quicker! in 27 feet—going 20 miles an hour!

AFTER a series of tests made on January 21, 1925, Mr. F. D. Wilson of the C. R. Wilson Body Company, Toledo, Ohio, signed this statement: "My Hupmobile, with two-wheel brakes, lined with Rusco Brake Lining, can be stopped, going 20 miles an hour in 27 feet."

That's how safe Rusco-lined, properly adjusted brakes will make your car. A lining will pass police inspection if it will stop in 35 feet going 20 miles an hour. Rusco stopped 8 feet quicker! With death ahead, 8 feet leeway is a godsend.

Rain or shine makes no difference to Rusco
RUSCO grips and holds just as well in wet weather as in dry. Turn the hose on Rusco-lined brakes. Then on any other kind. Water makes no difference to Rusco's stopping ability! Rusco is treated with a compound that makes it resist water, heat, oil, dirt and wear. Will not burn.

Your repair man pays more for Rusco than for other brands of lining, but he doesn't charge you more.
IN GIVING you Rusco—the finest quality brake lining it is possible for the repair man to obtain—he accepts a less profit than if he sold you any other brand. When your brakes need relining, be sure to get the benefit of Rusco superiority and the conscientious service of a repair man who is willing to take less profit in order to give you a better job. Have your brakes inspected and relined at any of the garages listed below. They are experts using special equipment for proper application of Rusco lining.

Fraternal Emblems Cost Owners Eleven Million Last Year

WASHINGTON, May.— Regalia, badges and emblems chiefly used by fraternal, patriotic and political societies in the United States represented a manufacturing cost of $11,000,000 last year.

This figure is based on estimates of the Bureau of the Census, showing that there is a gradual annual increase in the production of these articles. ROMPER PARTY OF COLLEGE CO-EDS PUTS FRAT UNDER TWO-YEAR BAN

AUSTIN, Texas, May — Walter Splawn, president of Texas University, has announced that the Greek letter fraternity accused of giving a "romper party" to co-ed guests the night of March 23 has been placed on probation for two years, during which time the social activities of its members will be restricted under faculty supervision.

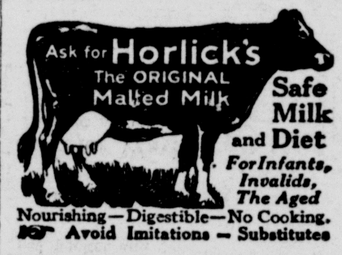

Splawn's action ends a three weeks' investigation of the alleged party, which began with the publication of stories, which were at the time indignantly denied by university officials. According to these stories the fraternity members and their fair guests met at the Austin Country club and tripped the latest steps clad in brief silken rompers, and as a grand finale drenched each other with ice water and tomato catsup. The effect of the rompers plastered against shrinking feminine forms by the ice water was variously described as exceedingly charming but shocking.

Male members of the party also, it is alleged, pinched their companions with such enthusiasm that many of the pinchees fled to the safety of the club kitchen, one of them making the journey, according to observers, clad only in slippers and a wrist watch.

Miss Lucy Newton, dean of women of the university, resigned as a protest when her recommendations for drastic action in the case were refused.

Diamonds sold by the DeBeers corporation of South Africa, last year had a total value of $17,262,000, which is $3,000,000 more than in 1923.
